Senate OKs Appalachia Bill, 62-22

Prompt Action In House Scheduled On Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed the Appalachia aid bill, and prompt House action is scheduled on the $1.09-billion measure drawn up as an economic pep pill for depressed regions of an 11-state area.

House Speaker John W. McCormack said it was likely the measure would be the first major piece of legislation from the 89th Congress to reach President Johnson's desk. Johnson has been pressing for quick action.

The Senate cleared the legislation Monday on a 62-22 roll-call vote after two days' debate. The bill's managers succeeded in fighting off all amendments to weaken the measure or to add development programs for other regions.

Last year the Senate passed a similar measure 45-13. But this died in the House after clearing its Public Works and Rules Committees.

A Public Works subcommittee will open hearings on the legislation Wednesday. House sponsors predict that with a bigger Democratic majority in this Congress, there will be relatively smooth sailing this year.

In the Senate, Democratic leaders kept amendments for other regions off the bill with a pledge that planning funds for development programs in these areas would be considered later this session.

The leaders said that Johnson had approved this course.

The bill's managers did go along with a surprise amendment by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., to keep the door open for a possible later addition of 13 New York counties to the Appalachia program. They emphasized these counties are considered a part of Appalachia but were kept out of the legislation originally by decision of New York itself. The Senate and the Appalachian Regional Council set up by the bill would have to agree to the 13-county addition.

2 More Seek Council Race Nominations

Two more candidates filed today with the County Election Board to seek nomination for City Council seats in the primaries May 4.

John H. Parsons of Curry St., vice president of Parsons Coal Co., Inc., and active in civic affairs, filed for the Republican nomination for Council-at-large.

Thomas J. Kidder, 1430 Etruria St., a machinist, entered for the Democratic nomination for First Ward councilman.

There also was a series of filings from other communities, prelude of a last-minute rush in advance of the deadline Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Mayor Dean Stockman of Lisbon entered to seek a fourth term on the Republican slate.

C. Robert McNally, an employee of the E. W. Bliss Co.'s rolling mill division at Salem, announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for mayor in Lisbon.

Glenn M. Mathess, 604 Main St., entered for the Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman at Wellsville.

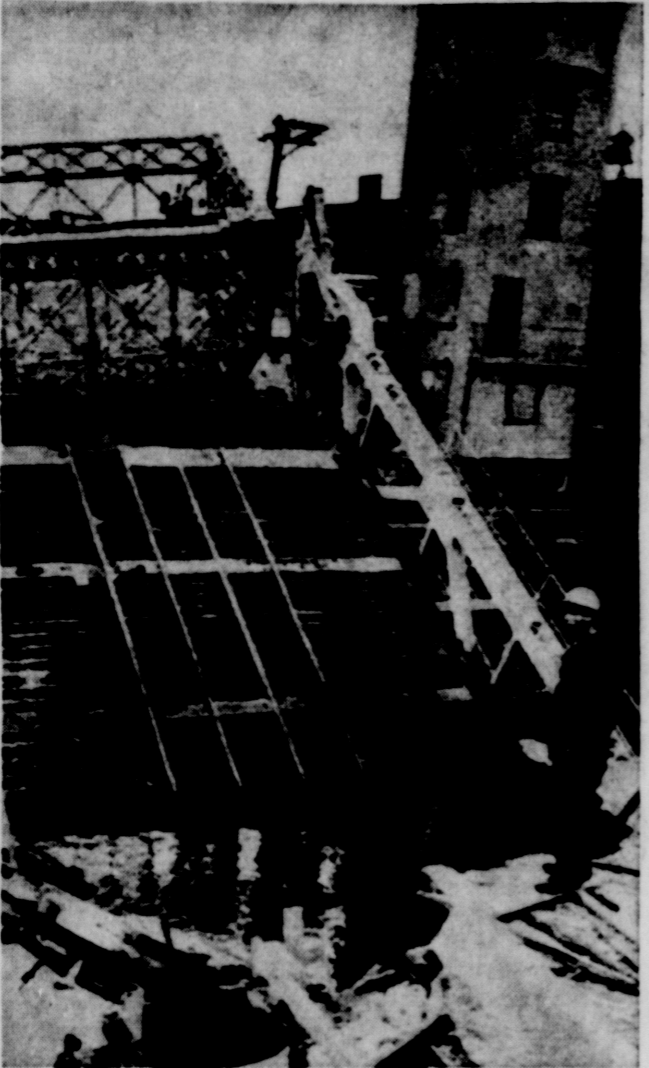

Councilman Aguin Bowling of Wellsville announced he will file for a second term as First Ward representative. He also is a Republican.

Parsons is chairman of the new City Park Commission and a member of the City Planning Commission. He also is first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and president of the City PTA Federation. A Sunday School teacher at the Calvary Methodist Church, he is a member of the Shrine Club and also serves on the committee for Boy Scout Troop 38. He is making his first political bid.

Kidder is employed in the machine shop at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he has worked 21 years. Making his first political try, he is a member of Steelworkers Local 1212.

Kidder is a member of the First United Presbyterian Church. Married and the father of five, he is a native of East Liverpool.

Remains In Jail

King Dramatizes Alabama Arrest

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., remained in jail to dramatize his civil rights struggle today while his followers got ready for new demonstrations to protest his arrest.

Most of the 250 Negroes and half a dozen white civil rights volunteers jailed with King during a massive right-to-vote march Monday went free on bonds of $200 each.

A member of King's staff said Negroes would renew demonstrations in Selma today to "protest the arrest of the Nobel Peace Prize winner."

The spokesman, the Rev. Hosea Williams of Atlanta, said simultaneous marches were being organized in the neighboring counties of Perry and Marengo and possibly also in Lowndes.

Those rural south Alabama counties already are marked for voter registration campaigns patterned after the three-week drive in Selma.

The right-to-vote movement has already begun in Perry County, birthplace of King's wife, Coretta. An estimated 300 Negroes lined up to seek registration as voters Monday while others penetrated the racial barrier at eating places in the county seat of Marion, 30 miles west of Selma. There were no arrests and no disorders.

King, who along with the other Negro marchers was charged with parading without a permit, almost escaped arrest because Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, said King "wanted to go to jail." Baker told the civil rights leader at one point that he and his close friend, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, could leave but then reconsidered and ordered them back into line with the others.

King and Abernathy had a chance to post bond of $200 following their arraignment before City Judge Edgar P. Russell.

But King chose to remain in custody and Abernathy went back to jail with him. It was King's 17th arrest since he began his long civil rights struggle as the leader of the bus boycott in Montgomery almost a decade ago.

While King spent the night in jail, Williams and other civil rights leaders kept the campaign going at another night mass meeting.

Sheriffs deputies took 474 teen-agers, mostly high school students absent from class, into custody while picketing the courthouse Monday. Many of them complied with a request from Juvenile Court Judge Bernard Reynolds and filled out blanks giving their names, addresses and school so they could be released.

Bitter Cold Drives Into Deep South

Much Of Country Shivers Through Night Of Subzero

By The Associated Press
Bitter cold drove into the Deep South today and much of the country shivered through a night of subzero temperatures, rain, snow and strong winds.

Even the groundhog refused to emerge to check on his shadow in some areas.

In Chicago, Lincoln Park Zoo officials refused to allow their two groundhogs outdoors on Groundhog Day because of bad weather.

Folklore has it that if the groundhog sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter.

Arctic air over the North Central states pushed south through the lower Mississippi Valley and southern Texas and east over the Tennessee and Ohio valleys.

Cold-wave warnings were issued for Arkansas, northern Mississippi and sections of Tennessee and Kentucky.

Temperatures edged near zero in parts of Kentucky and Tennessee, with 4 above at Louisville, 6 above at Nashville and 3 above at Crossville, Tenn.

Schools were closed in 29 Kentucky counties because of snow and cold.

Rain fell over the central Gulf Coast states and a belt of snow whitened an area from Tennessee to the Carolina mountains north to southern New England and the eastern Great Lakes.

Five inches of snow fell in Knoxville, Tenn., and 4 inches were measured in Crossville and Bristol.

Four-inch snowfalls also were reported in London, Ky.; Beckley, W.Va.; Binghamton, N.Y.; and Muskegon, Mich.

Several school systems were closed today in North Carolina mountain areas because of snow.

Florida warmed a bit Monday after frost and freezing temperatures.

The flood threats eased off in the Northwest.

Wages-Hours Law Asked In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — A bill to carry out Gov. Hulett Smith's recommendation for a West Virginia state wages- and -hours law was introduced in the House today. It calls for a minimum wage of $1 an hour in covered jobs and time-and-a-half for work over 40 hours a week.

Speaker H. Laban White Jr. and Del. Carmine J. Cann, both D-Harrison, introduced the bill, which has the support of the West Virginia Labor Federation, AFL-CIO.

West Virginia does not now have a state minimum wage law. The current bill would — with several exceptions — apply to persons and businesses not covered by federal wages and hours legislation.

Supporters say the beneficiaries would include retail clerks, hotel and restaurant employees and laundry workers.

Businesses with fewer than four employees would be exempt from the law. So would a number of occupations, including agricultural employees, domestic servants, outside salesmen, students employed part-time and home-delivery newsboys.

Twenty-five bills were introduced today — 16 in the House and nine in the Senate.

Tompos Resolution Cites Audit In Wirt

CHARLESTON (AP) — A resolution introduced in the Senate today said an audit disclosed payments from Wirt County school construction funds were made "to what appears to be a non-existent company whose bank account was opened and closed within three days." The company was not named.

Sen. William Tompos, D-Hancock, introduced the resolution, which cites a Tax Department audit of accounts of the Wirt County Board of Education for the July 1, 1962-June 30, 1963 fiscal year.

The resolution would direct the state attorney general to bring to the attention of the Wirt County prosecutor alleged irregularities uncovered by the audit.

'Very Cold' Tonight Below Zero Due, Cold Stops Snow

Still groggy from Monday's 3-inch snow, the Tri-State District wearily waited sub-zero weather tonight that may tumble the mercury to 4 to 8 below.

That was the Ohio Weather Bureau's forecast for Northeast.

THE EXTREME cold replaced snow as the biggest weather problem over most of the state.

Snow that buried the state under a blanket of from one to 6 inches yesterday has ended for all areas except greater Cleveland and adjoining counties.

The Weather Bureau there reported that 4 to 6 inches fell Monday and forecast another 2 to 4 inches for today.

THE SNOW belt was moving into the northeastern part of the country — although it still extended as far west as eastern Ohio, according to the Weather Bureau.

Both Chester Whitehouse, highway superintendent at Leetonia, and Charles Boughner, lockmaster at Montgomery, chalked up 3 inches of snow from the storm yesterday.

Whitehouse said there was some drifting from last night's blustery winds but road crews had completed cinderling and (Turn to WEATHER, Page 3)

Option To Be Exercised Purchase Of Hilbert Land Cleared For New School

A resolution authorizing the president and clerk to exercise an option on the 35-acre Hilbert property off Maine Blvd., as the site for a new senior high school was approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The board voted unanimously to have Harry D. McConville, president, and Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, sign the notice to be given Stanley T. Hilbert, owner of the tract adjoining the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Supt. Paul H. Blair explained the option to purchase the ground for $60,000 will expire March 15.

The board announced it had acquired the option just prior to a special election on Sept. 15 when school district voters approved a $3,380,000 bond issue for a building program which will include a new high school and three elementary buildings.

The board also approved a motion formally employing Robert F. Beatty as the architect for the new schools.

Prior to the special election, the board had retained Beatty to prepare plans for the new buildings subject to passage of the bond issue.

Following the meeting, the board met with Beatty to discuss plans for the elementary buildings. Don Baxter, sales representative, and William Williams, manager of the East Liverpool office of the Ohio Power Co., met with the board to discuss the total electric concept, including (Turn to SCHOOL, Page 5)

Divided Vote Stalls Change In Tax Office

Murray Proposes Delay To Request Saxbe's Opinion

Council gave first reading Monday night to legislation of officially restoring administration of the city income tax office to Treasurer Bert A. Dawson, but final passage was delayed after Councilman Floyd Murray suggested obtaining an opinion from Atty. Gen. William Saxbe to find if the additional responsibility would be incompatible with the duties of Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

The 5,000-word ordinance moved through first reading, 5-1, with only Murray dissenting. But on a motion for final passage it was turned down, with four opposed and two in favor.

Councilman Robert W. Sample and Donald Hancock voted for immediate enactment, but Councilmen Norman Bucher, James Cunningham, William Davis and Murray were opposed. Councilman Donald Smith was absent.

The legislation presumably will come up for second reading at the next meeting Feb. 15. At least six favorable votes would be required for enactment, as it contains an emergency clause.

When renewing the city income tax, effective Jan. 1, Council transferred the administrative duties from Dawson's office to Zollinger. But the auditor countered Jan. 4 with an opinion from Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper declaring that the duties of the two posts are incompatible.

The legislation then was drafted to return the tax administration to Dawson, who has had the responsibility for the collection since it first was established in 1958.

Proposal Of Record Fund Due Assembly Next Monday Night

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today he will ask the 106th General Assembly to authorize a record $188 million 1965-67 budget for the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

The proposal, up $17.5 million over the previous biennium, will be delivered to a joint session of the Legislature next Monday night.

Rhodes said the budget request provides for overall expansion of existing programs as well as inauguration of new ones.

The program includes: —Expansion of programs for the care, treatment, training and rehabilitation of the mentally ill and retarded and adult penal inmates.

—Additional personnel in the mental health program.

—Implementation of the Golden Age Village program.

—Expanded and improved treatment in prolonged-care hospitals.

—Expansion of out-patient treatment and use of day hospitals to reduce resident population in prolonged-care hospitals.

—Reactivation of the grant-in-aid education program.

—Greater emphasis in training psychiatric residents.

—Expansion and improvement of industrial occupational programs for Ohio penal inmates.

—More vocational training programs for the care, treatment and rehabilitation of the mentally retarded, including the classroom program with increased emphasis on vocational training.

The $188 million budget is for operation only and does not include the $5.5 million currently being spent by the department on capital improvements, the governor said.

Hike In Sales Tax Asked By School Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The mounting dispute between state officials and educational groups over school money loomed bigger than ever Monday night as the Ohio Legislature returned after a two-week recess.

The lawmakers formally received a bill initiated by the Ohio Council for Education which would boost the state sales tax from three to four per cent to provide $116 million a year for public education.

More than 117,000 signatures had been presented to the Legislature earlier but the bill, introduced without sponsorship, had not been drafted. The OCE said the petitions carried 23,000 more signatures than needed.

Unfriendly if not hostile treatment is expected to be accorded the measure by the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes who is under a campaign pledge to hold the line on taxes.

Rhodes has announced a $113 million increase in public school funds for the 1965-67 biennium which school groups contend is too little.

Rhodes' proposal includes a $200 a year pay boost for teachers and certified personnel but the OCE claims this is inadequate. (Turn to OHIO, Page 9)

Cut Nearly 50%

City's Fire Loss
Dips To $63,619

East Liverpool's fire loss was cut almost 50 per cent in 1964, dropping to $63,619, Fire Chief Charles Bryan informed City Council Monday night in his annual report.

Bryan's report showed the insured loss last year included $38,010 to buildings and $25,609 on contents in contrast to a loss totaling $126,185 in 1963.

PRIMARILY because of two costly business fires in 1963, the fire loss more than tripled the $23,872 recorded in 1962.

Bryan explained the losses do not include any estimates on uninsured property or contents.

The department responded to 357 alarms last year, six more than in 1963. Of the total, 285 were received by phone, 42 from police, 21 verbally, eight from fire alarm boxes and one by radio.

Firemen answered the most alarms in the shortest month of the year, responding to 40 calls in February. June was next highest with 34 while there were 33 in September. Only 18 alarms were answered in May.

THE OTHER monthly totals were January, 31; March, 27; April, 29; July, 28; August, 30; October, 28; November, 30, and December, 29.

One hundred of the fires were in autos, 88 in dwellings, 10 in mercantile establishments and 10 false alarms. Ten resuscitator calls also were answered.

Short circuits were blamed as the cause of 40 fires while cigarettes were responsible for 27, carburetor backfires for 25, and burning refuse and paper for 19. There were 35 fires in which the cause was not established and 43 calls in which no fire was involved.

The department made 125 inspections of business places, 80 at homes, 40 each at schools and nursing homes, 30 at industries, 25 in churches, 20 at service stations and dry cleaning plants, 16 at junkyards, 12 at bulk plants, 10 at clubs, and nine at theaters, Bryan said.

TEN DEMOLITION orders were issued and 30 written and verbal orders were given. Two warrants also were filed.

The miscellaneous calls, the chief said, included hydrants flushed 375 times, 45 to aid locked-out residents, 24 calls to flush gasoline and 11 smoke investigations.

Other calls included taking ill people home, water and gas leaks, trash complaints, painting and installing ropes on flagpoles, using the aerial ladder to check Patterson Field lights, and wetting down football fields.

Cooper Asks
New Metered
Parking Lots

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper recommended to Council Monday night that the city acquire additional property for establishment of new off-street parking lots as a way of making the central business area more attractive to shoppers and indirectly boosting the municipality's tax revenue.

The suggestion was made as part of his annual report, in which Cooper also suggested a long-range program to require property owners to repair or replace faulty sidewalks.

Additional off-street parking would "maintain and better the present stores, preserving real estate values and real estate taxes," Cooper said.

The action could lead to larger inventories in the business places, which would boost personal property taxes, and promote sales, resulting in an increase in sales tax revenue, he added. As the present off-street lots have paid for themselves through meter fees, the expense of the additional parking space would be borne "by the users and not the tax monies of the city," the solicitor said.

In the sidewalk program, the city would request owners of faulty sidewalks to make repairs and if they failed to comply the city could take steps to have the work done and bill the cost against the property as a special assessment, Cooper said.

Cooper said he prepared 33 ordinances and 29 resolutions for Council's action and gave legal advice to councilmen, the Board of Education and other municipal agencies. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark prosecuted 1,600 cases in Municipal Court, he added.

Cooper added that his office was involved in legal work and a $348,393 note issue in connection with the St. Clair Ave. rebuilding project.

Council Clears Way
For City Hall Repair

Implementing a decision made late in 1964, Council approved legislation Monday night authorizing the administration to advertise for bids on repair of the exterior of City Hall—pointing, caulking and renovating the concrete foundation.

Approximately $14,000 will be provided for the general project, which also will include repair of falling plaster in stairwells, work on the ceiling in the Municipal Court and replacing missing tile on some of the floors.

In response to a question from Councilman William Davis, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said legislative authority and sealed bids will not be required for the work on the interior as its phases are expected to cost less than $1,000. Bids are required only on purchases that exceed $1,000.

The Lewis and Clark Trail winds from the explorers' 1803 camp at Wood River, 15 miles north of St. Louis, northwestward along the Missouri River and across plains and mountains to a fort built near present-day Astoria, Ore.

Pole, Sign Hit
As Auto Skids

A Pennsylvanian's auto struck a utility pole and a service station's sign on E. 3rd St. near Washington St. Monday at 3:31 p. m. after skidding out of control on slippery pavement, police reported.

The 1964 model station wagon operated by Dwight Davis, 43, of Washington struck a pole owned by the Ohio Power Co. and a sign owned by Cooper's Amoco Service Station, officers said.

The crash damaged the right front fender, hood and bumper of the auto. Davis said he was driving east about 15 miles an hour when the car slid out of control and went off the right side of the street.

A collision at 5:28 p. m. at the blind junction of Diamond and Crook Alleys damaged a 1964 sedan driven by Samuel W. Eltringham, 37, of R. D. 2 and a taxi of the Yellow Cab Co. operated by James H. Corbett, 36, of 810 Fairview St., officers said. About three hours later, Eltringham was treated at City Hospital for a neck injury.

There was damage to the right front of the auto and the left front of the taxi, police said.

Ware Bought For Hancock Food Service

The Acme Sales Co. of Wellsville was awarded a contract Monday night by the Hancock County Board of Education to supply small wares for inauguration of a food service program in county schools.

The board accepted the company's offer of $8,583.20 conditional on immediate delivery.

Two other bids also were submitted. The Alco Co. of East Liverpool submitted an offer of $9,224.23. Lewis Brothers of Pittsburgh also submitted an offer, but did not bid on all items and other bids did not meet specifications, Supt. Robert H. Hall said.

The board will hold a special meeting Monday night to meet with Kellam & Foley, architect for the building program, and also will discuss the food service program.

A right-of-way was granted the Weirton Steel Co. to construct an 8-inch sewer through the parking lot and football stadium in Weirton to serve some buildings it is constructing at the rear of the stadium.

The board also approved the attendance of the five board members and four administrators at the meeting of the American Association of School Administrators conference Feb. 12-18 in Atlantic City.

Attending the session will be Robert H. Miller, president, Dr. W. Dale Williams, John Paul Jones, Francis Newbrough and Dr. J. M. Brand, board members; Supt. Hall, Asst. Supt. Charles E. McKinney, Guy Chamberlain Jr., maintenance supervisor, Mrs. Betty Shaw, curriculum co-ordinator, and Miss Elaine McAlpine, director of the instructional materials center.

The appointment of Jane Louise Armstrong of Bellaire as an elementary teacher for the 1965-66 term was approved.

Mrs. Mary Fluharty, elementary supervisor, was authorized to attend the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development meeting Feb. 28-March 4 in Chicago.

Floyd Lancia, Oak Glen band director, and Wayne Westfall, New Cumberland Junior High director, were given permission to attend the West Virginia Music Education Association meeting March 25-27 in Clarksburg.

The board also approved the attendance of some juniors from Oak Glen to attend Boys State June 6-12 at Jackson Mills.

The Hancock County Classroom Teachers Association was authorized to use the Little Theater at Oak Glen on March 29.

The Newell Lions Club was granted permission to use Wells Junior High School March 26 for "An Evening of Music."

Milton Weinberg of Weirton was authorized to chaperone Key Club members to the state convention April 23-25 in Huntington.

The Weir School Boosters Club was authorized to use the Weir High gym for a basketball game Feb. 20 between the West Virginia University fresh basketball team starring Ron Williams of Weirton and the Barons of the College of Steubenville.

The Weir High School band was authorized to participate in the Region 1 band festival April 23 at Oak Glen and the area band festival May 7-8 in Clarksburg.

Brooke County Man Killed In Rig Mishap

Three persons have been killed on West Virginia streets and highways — one of them electrocuted when his car smashed into a power pole.

Danny Earl McNeely, 19, of the Dry Branch area in Kanawha County was electrocuted Monday night when his car hit a utility pole in Charleston, knocking down live wires.

James Vaughn, 34, of Beech Bottom in Brooke County was crushed to death when his truck and trailer rig jackknifed after a head-on collision. The accident occurred Monday on icy W.Va. 2 in Brooke County.

Morris Greene Jr., 18, of St. Albans was killed on W.Va. 25 east of Notro Monday when the car he was driving smashed into a truck which was making a left turn into a driveway.

plowing late last night. Some work until 2 a. m. today and the East Liverpool area patrol trucks remained out all night.

BOUGHNER, who reported a low of 11 this morning, said ice was beginning to form in the Ohio River, one to 2 inches thick, and that it will thicken and further slow river traffic if the zero cold wave develops tonight.

Ice was general on the Ohio and the Weather Bureau said the continued cold will form solid ice on the river above Gallipolis in two or three days but that a strong current will prevent formation of ice below Gallipolis for at least that long. Thick ice downstream would halt boats.

The day's high may not go much above 16 and Wednesday's high will be around 17. The downtown had 10 degrees at 7 a. m.

At least the severe cold should cut off further snow locally. Only flurries are forecast for today, clearing by tomorrow.

Directors Named By Credit Union Of Chester Firm

Four directors were elected at the second annual meeting of the NaCho Credit Union of the National Church Supply Co. Saturday night at the Chester American Legion home.

Named to the board were Earl Pittenger, Jean Flasco, Nancy Fluharty and Verna Merriman. Ronald Gibbs, retiring president, was made an honorary member of the board. The hold-over director is Mrs. Erna Myers.

Two additional directors were named because of the resignations of Mrs. Ramona Treadway secretary, and Mrs. Frances McDonald.

Mrs. McDonald announced a 2 per cent dividend was declared in submitting her yearly report. Mrs. Treadway gave the secretary's report.

The report of the supervisory committee was given by Richard Sprout.

Speakers were Michael Reinaldo, president of the Weirton-Wellsburg chapter of credit leagues, and E. Lee Israel, a director of the state league.

William John, treasurer of the Globe Federal Credit Union, was a guest.

Legal Residence Question Delays City Tax Charge

To clear up a question over the legal residence of the defendant, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a continuance until Feb. 16 in a case in which Frank White is accused of violation of the city income tax ordinance.

D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner, filed an affidavit listing White's address as rear 457 1st Ave. and alleging he failed to file a final return on 1963 earnings or enter an estimate on 1965 income.

But White told the court today he resides on Beaver Ave., Midland, although the length of his residence there was uncertain. The court entered a not guilty plea for him. Judge Chertoff told White to return to court Feb. 16 with documents to back up his claim of residence in Midland. The charge against him dates back to June 18, 1964. Wilkinson told the court White was in his office in October, made a tax declaration and paid $12, although he failed to pay a $5 penalty for a late return.

Faulty Furnace Fixed At School In Chester

Chester Junior High School students returned to classes this morning after being dismissed Monday morning because of a failure of one of two furnaces.

Supt. Robert H. Hall said the motor on one of the stokers failed and was replaced by noon but too late for classes to be held. The cold was too severe for the remaining furnace to carry the load, he explained.

Safety Features In Autos

Spokesmen for the auto companies are touchy about possible pressure in Washington to force them to include so-called safety features in new cars.

As quoted in a recent New York Times roundup on the subject of auto safety, the auto manufacturers feel they are the goats for accidents caused by bad driving.

It is not the automobiles that fail, say the auto people. It is the drivers of automobiles. All the safety features that might be built into cars would have no effect on bad driving.

That argument is sound as far as it goes.

But it needs to go further to be convincing.

Safety features would not improve drivers. They could add nothing to the skill of drivers who go too fast or do foolish things that cause collisions and one-car accidents.

But anything that could be done, starting with seat belts, to protect other drivers and passengers involved in accidents through no fault of their own would be worth the effort.

Seat belts are the classic example of a safety feature that has proved itself in practice. Seat belts when used are a net addition to security.

Anything else that would prevent or minimize the danger of being thrown against a windshield, anything that would lessen the danger of fire in a crash; anything that would reduce the danger of a collapsed top in a roll-over would be a net addition to security.

If all drivers were good, no one would worry about safety features in autos. They wouldn't be needed.

But until all drivers are good, anything that widens the security margin for innocent and helpless victims of the bad drivers will be appreciated, even if it doesn't help to sell cars.

Silver Lining

Every cloud is supposed to have the proverbial silver lining — and when they're snow clouds and rain clouds the silver becomes even more apparent to those who are weather-wise.

As Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport, points out in his January report, the district water table is in good shape as a result of the snow and rain.

Though things are somewhat disagreeable now, a satisfactory water table means good news in the future.

Nothing Left But Hope

We must protect the gullible, especially the elderly gullible, against frauds and misrepresentations of all kinds, just as a Senate subcommittee studying the matter says we must.

But before we square away in upright wrath to create an anti-quackery bureau within the Food and Drug Administration, we should understand why a certain kind of gullibility increases with advancing age.

No one is alarmed when a woman shopper convinces herself the scent of "Chase Me" is likelier to get attention from downwind males than the scent of another perfume with a provocative name.

This comes under the heading of "Buyer Beware" merchandise — items whose claims are matters of opinion. Does one hair cream really make a man more irresistible? Or doesn't it really matter what hair cream men use?

These and other hopeful thoughts inspired in the mind of purchasers by advertising and hard-sell merchandising alarm no one. Let the buyer beware.

But oldsters have hopes, too. Their hopes are more mundane, than scents and unguents; they concern arthritis cures, repairs for faulty functions, palliatives for the infirmities of old age in general and the fruition of ambitions long denied. Enter the quacks, the purveyors of fraud, the exploiters of gullibility.

Hope is their entering wedge — hope of a cure for the incurable, a get-rich-quick scheme that really works, a freak food, a magic potion, a wondrous lotion that will do the impossible.

Everything about con men who prey on old age is reprehensible.

Their stock in trade is hope — the rarest commodity in the market for the old.

They must be protected. But they must be protected against themselves. Their unquenchable hope is their undoing. Take it away and what do they have left?

Man Behind The News

Kent Cooper left a deeper imprint on the sands of time than all but a dozen or so of the tens of thousands whose footprints he recorded in a long career of newspapering.

Had it not been for his genius in setting up and administering the complex organization of the Associate Press, thereby creating a new standard of communication, news as it is thought of at this two-thirds mark in the 20th century would not exist.

There would be news, but it would not be as quick, and it would not be as accurate. Neither would it be as broad in coverage. Mr. Cooper made a special point of getting the whole world on the AP news beats.

He developed the picture services that were astounding newspaper and magazine readers long before television and jet aviation.

His was the dynamic personal drive behind the world's most significant cooperative enterprise — the far-flung Associated Press network of people and facilities that have tied the world together in a net of information.

Behind all news there are the men and women who obtain it, reduce it to comprehensible form and distribute it. There is no news story until it has been comprehended, written and read.

In 41 years with the Associated Press, Kent Cooper was the man behind the men and women whose lives are dedicated to gathering and communicating the news. His death at the age of 84 closes one of the most useful lifetimes of his generation.

His monument is the great organization he managed so well and so long.

Purely Personal

When Franklin Roosevelt said one third of this nation was down and out, two thirds of the nation said, "Yeah, he means us." When Lyndon Johnson proposed relief for Appalachia, the "pocket of poverty" turned into a Grand Canyon of gins, including parts of wealthy Ohio.

A story about the last run of a commuter train I rode on the one time I played the commuter role has swamped me in nostalgia about scenes no longer to be seen, friends who have died and hopes and dreams demolished by the iron ball of reality.

No doubt about it. There isn't enough gold to justify the use of gold as a money base. I suggest uranium, thereby satisfying the basic requirement of survival in this era of tenuous peace — the power to wipe out everything that cannot be bought out.

Every cold morning my admiration is unbounded for small birds that perch on the chimney pot of our neighbor's house. I always have wondered why birds didn't take more advantage of modern smokeless heating.

It will be only a few years until the nudity trend will have so injured us men that we no longer will boggle at vistas of feminine flesh once barred from view. My thought is prompted by leafing through perfectly respectable women's magazines containing oo-la-la illustrations of what's coming.

This 'n That

The chief cause of rain is the sun. Its heat causes evaporation of water on the earth's surface. This water in the form of vapor remains suspended in the air until its contact with a cooler current of air causes it to condense into clouds and fall to the earth as rain.

At the beginning of this century one-third of the U.S. population lived in cities and suburbs. Today about 65 per cent of Americans are urban. And it is predicted that by 1980 at least 75 per cent of all Americans will be living in cities and suburbs.

The lightest gas known is hydrogen, weighing only 0.005611 pounds per cubic foot. The heaviest gas is radon, which is 111.5 times heavier than hydrogen.

Why Humphrey Didn't Make Trip

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Why didn't President Johnson send Vice President Humphrey to attend the funeral of Winston Churchill? This question has been asked by many Washington people in the last few days. While official quarters have not supplied the answer, the decision on the part of David Lawrence, Mr. Johnson was based on obvious circumstances.

The truth is that, although Mr. Johnson came back from the hospital the middle of last week, he stayed in bed much of the time for several days thereafter. The President was aware that throughout the country there was a nervousness about his illness — a fear that it might take a serious turn. If, indeed, he had been well enough to resume his regular activities, there wouldn't have been so much concern. But because Mr. Johnson had not fully recovered from his illness, it was recognized that to send the vice president out of the country at such a time would cause some apprehension.

The whole question of whether a president himself should go out of the country at all has often been debated.

SOME LAWYERS have taken the view that, whenever a president leaves the jurisdiction of his own country, either the vice president should be considered in office, or that a constitutional amendment should be adopted clearly setting forth that the president does not necessarily have to be in this country to exercise the duties of his office.

Inasmuch as public opinion lately has been somewhat apprehensive during President Johnson's illness, sending the vice president abroad at this time might have compounded the worries of the nation.

The United States government did, of course, pay honor to the departed statesman by sending an official delegation. It would have been regarded as a higher tribute if the President himself could have gone to London, but everybody in Britain as well as in this country realized that Mr. Johnson had been ill and that his physicians would not want to take any chances of a reinfection or of some other medical consequence which might result from a journey abroad.

Perhaps Mr. Johnson did make one mistake. He might well have chosen Dwight Eisenhower to represent the United States government, not just as a man who had twice served as president, but because of his ties with the British people and leaders while he was general of the American armies and Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe during World War II.

THE FACT that Winston Churchill and Dwight Eisenhower were such close friends, and together made some of the really major decisions during the war, was enough to warrant the designation of Gen. Eisenhower as an official representative of the United States.

While Gen. Eisenhower attended the funeral, he did so as friend invited by the Churchill family. In his farewell tribute, broadcast over the British Broadcasting Corporation as the funeral ceremonies were ending, he said somewhat wistfully:

"As I, like all other free men, pause to pay a personal tribute to the giant who now passes from among us, I have no charter to speak for my countrymen — only for myself. But if, in memory, we journey back two decades to the time when American and Briton stood shoulder to shoulder in global conflict against tyranny, then I can presume — with propriety, I think — to act as spokesman for the millions of Americans who served with me and with their British comrades during those three years of war on this sector of the earth."

There has been much talk in Washington about why President Johnson didn't appoint some members of Congress to go along as a part of the American delegation to the Churchill funeral.

INASMUCH as Winston Churchill's political life was spent for the most part in the House of Commons, and since he has addressed the Congress of the United States on his visits here, it would have seemed appropriate to send the leaders from each house as a part of the official delegation.

Since Chief Justice Warren and Secretary of State Rusk represented the judicial and executive branches of the government, the delegation might logically have included prominent members of the legislative branch.

The vice president, as presiding officer of the Senate would, of course, have represented Congress as well as the presidency. But Mr. Johnson unquestionably was sensitive to public opinion when he decided not to complicate the problem further by sending the vice president out of the United States at this time.

THERE IS, moreover, a nervousness these days about the whole question of presidential succession, and Mr. Johnson has sent a message to Congress recommending that something be done to clarify what happens when a president is disabled.

The very prominence given to this subject indicates that the country is not satisfied with the vague arrangements that have been made as between a president and a vice president, even though they informally agree what should be done in the event that the chief executive is temporarily too ill to serve.

'In America I'd Be A Tycoon Instead Of A Crummy Hero Manager'

Horse-Buggy Unionism In Space Age

By VICTOR RIESEL

In a gloomy mood, space scientist Dr. Werner von Braun once quipped bitterly to me that it will take American astronauts 24 hours to get to the moon — and 48 hours to get through Soviet customs inspection there unless we move more speedily onto the stellar highways.

The sound of speed, however, appears to have an allergic effect on many construction workers at the Florida Merritt Island $750 million moonport.

There have been some 55 costly stoppages at the space complex. Some of the walkouts have not only delayed vital moon depot building, but have cost as much as a million dollars a day.

The men "down tools" as though working in a surrey shop instead of in the 52-story, $11 million Vertical Assembly Building (VAB) and the Launcher Umbilical Tower (LUT).

THE 4,000 construction men appear to be eternally feuding with their basic employer, the National Aeronautical and Space Administration (NASA), which is intent on getting specialists to do the job and get the job done before the energetic Soviets do.

The latest stoppage broke Jan. 28 because some construction workers wanted to pressure NASA into the "jurisdiction" over the building of a monster "crawler" at the moonport. Four of these must be built before two of our astronauts can walk on the moon.

Trouble with the passion of the construction men — Iron Workers in this instance — was the fact that the crawlers already are being built by members of another union, the United Steelworkers.

This irritated the construction unionists. So they never bothered to announce a strike. They simply did not show up. They did not even show the courtesy of setting up a lone picket.

THE OBJECT of their disaffection, the crawler, is but one of four such gargantuan machines. They are known as tractor crawler transporters. When the blast-off time nears, the four behemoths will move in under the base of the huge structure known as the Launcher Umbilical Tower.

LUT will carry the Apollo 3-stage "Saturn-5" launch vehicle, atop which will rest the tip capsule manned by the astronauts. At a signal the electrically driven crawlers will shift to each side of the LUT base, lift the entire tower and gently move it 3 miles at the rate of 1 mile an hour. The space craft will then go onto a weird launching pad and the mastodon machines will crawl back.

This moment is some time off, but the first crawler has been completed by the Marion (Ohio) Power Shovel Co. The second crawler is about to be built. As with the first, the Power Shovel people plan to use their skilled and specially trained steel union members.

THE FIRM believes this crawler thing is an assembly job and not in the field of building construction. The construction unions think differently. They also claim the steel union rates of pay are too low. Construction unionists get more.

Basically, the Jan. 28 strike was a move to get the second crawler. It was denounced by Col. W. L. Starnes as "most regrettable" because "what we have here is a situation where a disagreement over one proj-ing heating, for the new schools.

Baxter asked the board's permission to talk over the electric program with the architect, but no action was taken.

He invited the board to inspect the College of Steubenville, which is "all-electric," explaining 19 schools in the Ohio Power System now are all electric and 13 others are heated partially by electricity.

He pointed out Stanton Local high school and the Edison Elementary School at Empire, both designed by Beatty, are heated electrically.

The utility representative cited two rate reductions in the last year for those with all-electric systems, including the most recent reduction last week.

Among the advantages he cited were the elimination of a boiler room, boilers and piping and simplified controls.

Baxter said the utility is planning a trip for school boards and architects to visit General Electric's Nela Park center near Cleveland on March 1 and invited local board members to participate.

Williams said at present the utility is unable to talk in terms of dollars and cents since it has no details on the design of the buildings.

He urged the board to consider the cost of operation regardless of what system it uses and pointed out the electric rate has been downward while that of "competition" has been upward.

Solicitor For Beaver Quits For Judge Race

BEAVER — Beaver County commissioners, today, accepted the resignation of Atty. Arthur S. Herskovitz of Aliquippa as county solicitor.

Herskovitz said he plans to run as a Democratic candidate for judge of Common Pleas Court and was resigning to prevent a possible conflict of interest.

He has served since May, when he was appointed to replace Eugene Caputo of Ambridge, who will also be a candidate for judge. Two are to be named.

In other action, a contract for desilting of Bradys Run Lake was let to the General Contracting Co. of Midland for $41,400 and $2,000 was paid to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Aron of Chippewa Township for land to be used for expansion of the county airport.

St. Clair Man Fined $50 On Assault Case

Kenneth Ward of St. Clair Ave. was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge he struck another patron in an East End bar Friday with such force that it broke both jaws of the complaining witness and damaged some of his teeth.

The assault charge was filed by Nathan Elkins of Midland, who alleged he was struck by Ward while in the Valley Bar on Mulberry St. Ward pleaded guilty. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff then took testimony from both principals.

Elkins said he and three companions entered the bar "for a couple of beers." He said an argument then erupted between a barmaid and others in the party. Elkins said he started to leave, but Ward barred the door and then struck him on the jaw, knocking him unconscious. Elkins said he is scheduled for surgery to repair the damage to his jaw.

Questioned by the judge, Ward denied he "threw a sucker punch" at Elkins. He identified himself as a patron of the bar.

Judge Chertoff commented that he regretted the city ordinance under which Ward was charged does not call for a jail sentence.

Meanwhile, the judge gave a 10-day suspended jail term to Mrs. Eula Mae Johnson, 715 W. 8th St., charged with assault with a deadly weapon Jan. 23 on Mrs. Alice Burks of Garfield St.

Testimony showed the incident occurred in a downtown super-market. Mrs. Johnson allegedly threatened Mrs. Burks with a knife with a 2 1/2-inch blade. In suspending the sentence, the court lectured Mrs. Johnson and told the two women not to associate with each other in the future.

In Talk To Assembly

Scranton Pushes Highway Action

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Gov. William W. Scranton outlined a $10-billion highway construction program as the Pennsylvania General Assembly spent a busy session Monday night.

In other action, legislation was introduced in the Senate which would soften traffic safety penalties and six Democratic senators proposed a constitutional convention be called to rewrite the state constitution of 1874.

SCRANTON pressed for his road plans in a personal appearance before a joint session of the House and Senate.

Ten billion dollars is just about twice the amount which would be spent at the present rates of construction and pay-as-you-go financing.

The highway budget which Scranton will present to the Legislature in two months is expected to approximate $550,000,000 in state and federal money.

The governor told the legislature that the state no longer can afford to stick to cash-in-hand road building. Highways must be viewed as a capital investment, he said.

"Unless we begin now to revolutionize our approach to highway construction, 10 years from now the people will pay dearly for the neglect," he said.

But the governor was not specific as to financing. He said that at some time in the future both registration fees and drivers license fees probably will have to be increased substantially, that the state may have to turn to toll financing and that bonded indebtedness may be involved.

"My purpose today is not to attempt to give every detail of a $10 billion financing plan," he said. "At this time this is neither practical nor necessary."

As the governor views the program, it is his duty in the remaining two years of his term to "gear up" the Highway Department to handle construction at a rate as great as $900,000,000 a year.

SEN. GEORGE N. Wade, Republican of Camp Hill, introduced the bill on traffic penalties.

It would re-establish the point system of suspension and revocation of drivers' licenses. The present rule does not involve points.

Under the proposed point system, accumulation of 12 points within three years would bring a 45-day suspension of driving privileges. A second accumulation would cause a suspension of 60 days. Subsequent suspensions would be limited to a maximum of six months.

Under the constitutional convention proposal, the convention would meet Jan. 3 of next year and "conclude its sessions not later than Feb. 1, 1967." The legislation was introduced by Sen. Paul W. Mahady of Westmoreland.

Three convention delegates would be elected from each of the state's 27 congressional districts, and 15 at large.

The constitution drawn up at such a convention would be submitted for public approval "at a special election or referendum" to be held on the third Tuesday of March, 1967.

The measure carries with it an appropriation of $500,000 for salaries, expenses and advertising, and up to $300,000 for "payment of expenses, incidental to the holding of a special election or referendum."

Nelson Hagerty Named First National Cashier

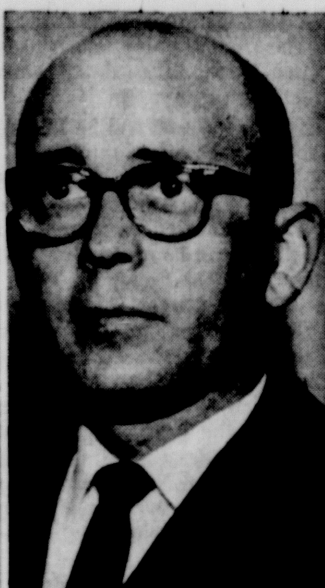

Nelson E. Hagerty of Reynolds, Pa., has been appointed cashier of the First National Bank, Robert E. Boyce, president, announced today.

Hagerty, 36, has been cashier of the First National Bank at Reynolds in northwestern Pennsylvania, and has been associated with the U.S. Treasury Department's Bank Examiner Division in the 4th Federal Reserve District.

A graduate of Waynesburg College, he has taken graduate work at the University of Maryland and served with the Army.

He has been active in community work, fund drives and civic activities in Reynoldsville and is a member of the Presbyterian Church and Masonic and Elks Lodges.

He is married to the former Jane Lincoln of Carmichaels, Pa. They have two sons. The family plans to move to East Liverpool.

N. E. HAGERTY Takes City Bank Position.

Raises Asked For Firemen

Pay raises which would cost $3,300 a month were asked by Fire Chief Charles Bryan in his annual report on 1964 operations which he submitted Monday night to City Council.

The chief recommended increases of $150 a month for himself and Asst. Chiefs Alfred Van Dyne, James Pelley and Gerald Goodballet and $100 monthly boosts for 27 rank-and-file firemen.

The recommendations would boost Bryan's salary to $650, the assistant chiefs to $585 and firemen to $500 a month.

Bryan also urged a new 750-gallon pumper to replace the 25-year-old American LaFrance truck at the East End station and construction of a new North Side fire house.

He asked a new station wagon for the department's use to replace the present vehicle.

The chief pointed out Mayor Merrill D. Hall also has recommended a new car for the chief.

Bryan also renewed his yearly appeals for a building code and an electrical inspector, explaining he has asked for the building code for 24 years and an electrical inspector for the last 15 years.

He estimated the department's budget for this year at $178,690, including $151,620 for salaries; $3,000, maintenance of fire equipment; $3,000 for hose and nozzles; $5,000, lands and buildings; $3,100, uniforms; $600, gasoline and oil; $300, furniture and fixtures; $2,000, incidentals; $310, firemen's bonds; $200, stationery; $400, fire alarm system; $500, fire school training, and $3,000, fire hydrants.

Appropriations Unit Eases Ban On Food To UAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has lined up in support of President Johnson's drive to ease a House-voted prohibition against further shipments of surplus farm products to the United Arab Republic.

The committee voted 17 to 6 Monday to relax the House ban by giving the President flexibility to continue the shipments when they are necessary to carry out a 1962 sales agreement and if he determines such exports are "in the national interest."

This so-called "escape hatch" was written into a $1.6-billion emergency agricultural appropriation in a modification of the flat ban voted by the House.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said the State Department had given senators a "confidential" reason for opposing the House ban. He said "I think that our oil companies are very much disturbed for fear" that UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser "would shut off the use of the Suez Canal or take some other steps to make their business in the Middle East rather hazardous." Aiken was interviewed Monday on the American Broadcasting Co. radio program "From the Capital."

Reduced Turnpike Tolls Opposed By Shocknessy

CLEVELAND (AP)—Suggestions that Ohio Turnpike tolls be reduced were termed "ill-conceived and unrealistic" Monday by James W. Shocknessy, Turnpike Commission chairman.

In his annual report to the governor and the General Assembly, Shocknessy attacked proposals for lower tolls, which would mean postponing repayment of turnpike bonds "from a prospective payment date in 1980 to their maturity date in 1992."

"So long as the charges on the Ohio Turnpike are properly competitive, prudence dictates that they be continued so that during the years of its youth and vigor moneys will be accumulated and debts paid rather than continued into its age as an unnecessary burden to posterity," the reported stated.

"The Ohio Turnpike has been a symbolic manifestation of the principle . . . that good business practices can be followed in government."

"There is no guarantee at this time that the revenue experience of recent years will continue after the interstate system has been totally completed or that a war or other catastrophe, social or economic, might not make the postponement to posterity of the debt of the Ohio Turnpike Commission a deplorable mistake."

'One-Man, One-Vote' Action Upheld By Court's Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday upheld the broad power of lower courts to reduce the normal terms of legislatures in New York and Virginia during reapportionment of their districts.

The court thereby took another step to buttress the effect of its decision last June that state legislatures must be aligned on a "one-man, one-vote" formula.

Yesterday's 7-2 decision upheld action by a three-judge district court in New York City last July 27 and by a similar special court in Alexandria, Va., Sept. 18.

The court in Alexandria ruled that Virginia's state senators elected in 1963 under an invalidated apportionment plan could serve only two years of their four-year terms — until next November — and directed that the General Assembly be reapportioned by then. Senators elected next November also would get only two-year terms.

The court in New York City ruled last summer that legislators in the state could be elected in November as scheduled under an invalidated apportionment but for one-year terms, instead of the normal two.

It decreed also that an election be held next November under a valid apportionment plan to be drawn up by next April 1, would limit the terms again to one year. The legislature elected in 1966 could return to the normal two-year terms.

300 Face Jobs Loss In Closing Of Station

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The missile-tracking station on San Salvador Island will be closed, and 300 employees will be dropped from the Air Force Eastern Test Range payroll in an economy move.

The Air Force made the announcement Monday. Affected will be 170 employees of Pan American World Airways and 130 of Radio Corp. of America. The dollar saving was not announced.

Only a small caretaker force will remain on the Bahamas island.

Ex-Cleveland Labor Official Dies At 68

CLEVELAND (AP)—William Finegan, who served as executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor from 1947 until he resigned effective Jan. 1, 1962, is dead. He was stricken Monday in a taxicab and pronounced dead at St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

Finegan, 68, resigned as executive secretary of the CFL after being fined in U.S. District Court for income tax evasion. He was granted severance pay of $16,900 after he resigned. When the national AFL-CIO overruled the agreement, he filed suit against the CFL for the severance pay. He was en route to the courthouse for a hearing on his lawsuit when he died.

3 Injured Slightly In One-Car Accident

CLEVELAND (AP)—An automobile skidded off the highway and rolled about 100 feet down an 80-degree slope before crashing into a tree in suburban North Olmsted Monday, but the three occupants suffered only minor injuries.

The accident occurred on Columbia Road just south of Mastick Road in the Rocky River Reservation of Metropolitan Park. Mrs. Raymond F. Rooney, 34, of Olmsted Falls, driver of the car, and her two children, James, 4, and Ellen, 2, were treated at Bay View Hospital for cuts and bruises and then released.

Many long distance rates are again reduced

Since the first coast-to-coast telephone call in January, 1915, improvements in technology have repeatedly led to better and more efficient telephone service. These developments have been effective in reducing the cost of calls over the longer distances.

The reduction in Long Distance interstate telephone rates made on February 1st of this year is a good example of how these savings have been passed on to you.

The reductions in rates apply all day Sunday, all day Saturday, and every night during the week.

A three-minute, station-to-station interstate call anywhere in the continental United States (except Alaska) now costs you $1 or less, plus tax, all day Sunday and after 8 p. m. on other days, and $1.50 or less, plus tax, all day Saturday.

OHIO Long Distance Rates Go Down March 1st.

Similar reductions in long distance station-to-station rates, the same days and the same times, for calls within Ohio will become effective on March 1, 1965.

Dentists' Proposal

Council To Study Water Fluorides

Acting at the request of the East Liverpool District Dental Society, Council agreed Monday night to make a new investigation of the feasibility of adding fluoride to the city water supply as a way of cutting tooth decay, particularly in youngsters.

The proposal for the fluoride program was revived when Council conferred in caucus session with Dr. Myer Alpern, president of the district society, Dr. Marvin Kinsey, Dr. Harry Frost and Dr. F. D. Irwin.

THE DENTISTS pointed out that the plan first was proposed about two years ago, but died before final action was taken. After a lengthy discussion, Council moved to refer the question to its ordinance committee for study.

Dr. Alpern said the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water system, asked authority for the fluoride plan about two years ago. Council referred the question to the Health Board, which discussed and approved the proposal about 18 months ago, he said.

But the water board needs legislative authority to add the fluoride to the water supply, plus approval to buy about $2,500 in equipment, before the plan can be put into operation, he explained.

Addition of the tasteless chemical would cost about 7 or 8 cents per capita each year, Dr. Alpern said. It is added to the water supply at the rate of one tenth of a part per million, he explained.

DR. ALPERN said experience has shown fluoride will reduce cavities in growing children by 50 to 65 per cent, resulting in an annual savings of thousands of dollars.

He cited many Ohio cities which use the system, including Lisbon, Salem, Martins Ferry, Cleveland, Bowling Green and Medina.

He compared the use of fluoride to immunization against polio or any other disease.

The method does not help adults, because their teeth already are formed, but will be of particular benefit to young children, he added.

Reporting for the street committee, Councilman Floyd Murray said it has approved a request to shift a street light from the north side of E. 3rd St. to the south side in an area near College St. He said the committee also has approved a request to install a stop sign on Sherwood Ave. at the junction with Boring Ln.

MURRAY said he and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey investigated a Globe St. area where a street light was requested, but said further study is needed. He also said a new street light has been requested at Stewart and Morton Sts. Councilman James Cunningham supported the request for the light at Stewart and Morton Sts.

A "no parking" area was requested on E. 6th St. at the S. & H. Green Stamp redemption center and a sign already has been erected, Murray said. Cunningham said his committee will meet Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel with representatives of Shelter-Aid, Inc., of Columbus, a concern which has erected several shelters at school bus stops. School Supt. Paul Blair and members of the Board of Education, the City Planning Commission and Council will be invited, he said.

Vodrey asked Council to decide soon whether the city's street seal-coating work this summer will be done by the street department or let out on contract. If the city undertakes the work, it should begin stockpiling slag soon, he said.

HE ALSO asked Council if it feels the city should restore a blinker signal at St. Clair and Maplewood Aves. that was knocked down recently when hit by a truck with its dump bed raised. He said restoring the signal will require installation of a pole to help support it. Council asked the street committee to investigate.

Murray thanked the director for installing a street light at the Klondyke skating rink. He commented Council should provide funds for work on the River Rd., asserting it is "in terrible shape."

Cunningham declared that St. Clair Ave., now in process of rebuilding, was "in terrible shape on Sunday." He said he feels the contractor should be urged to lay pavement as soon as possible to aid the residents and business places fronting on St. Clair.

Cunningham also commented that Vodrey should be given authority to hire equipment without having to contact all the councilmen when a piece of city-owned equipment breaks down. He said Vodrey was required to contact councilmen for authority to hire equipment when a city grader broke down last week.

CUNNINGHAM said he has talked with Donald T. Duke, superintendent for the Board of Public Utilities, about a faulty line which has allowed sewage to seep into the basement of the First Church of the Nazarene at Walnut and Minerva Sts. Cunningham said he feels the city should install a manhole which would permit the blocked line to be cleaned and eliminate the trouble.

Councilman Norman Bucher said he has been asked questions about extending city water service outside the corporate limits, but added that he cannot find where Council ever authorized such a move.

At his suggestion, Council directed a letter be sent to Duke and members of the water board asking them to discuss the question in caucus with Council at the next meeting Feb. 15.

"PERSONALLY, I'm not very much in favor of extending water lines outside the city," Bucher said.

Councilman Donald Hancock agreed with Bucher. He said some cities have ordinances that forbid extension of water service beyond certain limits. He said the solicitor might make a study and determine if such legislation could be enacted here.

Hancock, chairman of the claims committee, reported rejection of three bills against the city.

They were: William A. Long, 601 Washington Ave., Wellsville, $50 for damage to his car Jan. 12 when it hit a piece of broken concrete on W. 8th St.; Ralph Yanni, 2805 St. Clair Ave., $40.15 for damage to his car when it hit a broken piece of curb Aug. 21, 1964, on Walnut St.; and Mrs. Gladys Maxwell, 1506 St. Clair Ave., $124 for sewer and gas lines she alleged were broken by city workers Nov. 7 while they were installing a sewer main.

THE COMMITTEE was given a $32 bill from Mrs. R. W. Hopkins, 606 Belmar Ave., who said a sewer backed up into the cellar of her home on Jan. 8. Another bill for $72.50 was filed by Dorsey Beaver, 731 Minerva St., for damage to his car on Jan. 8. He did not explain how the damage was incurred.

Council filed the annual report of the trustees of the James Godwin Fund for the Relief of the Worthy Poor, covering the 1964 calendar year. It showed receipts of $872 and disbursements of $692. The trustees are C. Walter Ashbaugh, C. W. Henderson, Marion P. Thompson, William H. Vodrey Jr. and A. L. White.

Robert Spratley of E. 8th St. appeared to protest a request for a parking ban in Tip-Top Alley. He said it would interfere with parking the cars of persons who rent property from him.

Councilman Donald Smith was excused. The meeting opened with invocation with Maj. William Hathorn of the Salvation Army.

Chester Woman Hurt In Fall While Walking

A Chester woman hurt in a fall while walking Monday was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital. Two youngsters injured in falls were treated yesterday and released.

Mrs. Jean Stoy, 420 Florida Ave., suffered bruises of the back when she fell. She was admitted at 6 p. m.

Carl Gorrell, 10, son of Carl Gorrell of Cannons Mills, received bruises of the ribs in a fall on a brick in the cellar at home.

Teresa Turner, 10-month-old daughter of Robert Turner of Glenmoor, suffered injuries to the right side of the head in a fall from a bed.

Planning Unit's Work Told St. Clair Group

A report of activities of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission was presented by Richard Mattern at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Development Association Monday night at the Calcutta fire station.

Mattern is president of the township group and secretary of the planning commission. A meeting of the nominating committee was postponed until later this month. The next meeting will be held March 1.

Board To Ask Tax Payment

week for five weeks, Blair informed the board.

It also adopted a textbook for third-year Latin after Blair reported 20 copies are needed.

A brief discussion was held after John R. Woomer questioned the need for third-year Latin, asking whether the board's efforts might be wasted as there is need for more practical courses.

The board approved the appointments of Miss Nancy McClelland as a high school teacher and Miss Karen M. Moss as an elementary instructor, and Earl Hamilton as a boiler fireman at the high school.

Blair reported Hamilton started work at the high school yesterday and his appointment will clear the way for Oliver Lunger to begin work as boiler fireman at Westgate.

Lunger was appointed at the first meeting this year but was retained at the high school until a replacement could be secured.

The board also established a 40-hour work week for custodians who fire furnaces with the stipulation they will be paid $100 for the months in which the furnaces must be fired and compensatory time off for any authorized overtime.

The board also was notified by Rex C. Hacker, deputy state auditor, that all organizations should be required to pay custodial fees unless a regular custodian is on duty.

Hacker said student band concerts and play practices are exempted because credit is given the students. However, athletic events, PTA and Booster Club meetings and use of school facilities by outside organizations are included, the deputy auditor said.

The board had contacted the auditor's office to determine if it could absorb the custodians' fees when the event benefits students.

Board members had expressed a willingness to pay the custodial fees required for the post-prom party sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Although the Jaycees had not requested lifting the fee, the board indicated it would absorb the cost if it could be done legally.

Five rentals were authorized by the board. They included: Use of the East Junior High gym-auditorium Friday night by the Oakland Free Methodist Church for youth activities with a fee of $10;

East Junior gym - auditorium on Feb. 13 by the Columbiana County Youth for Christ with a fee of $10 plus custodial fees; Westgate auditorium April 2-3 to the East Liverpool Chapter of SPEBSQSA, Inc., for the 16th annual Parade of Quartets with $20 for the rehearsal and $50 plus custodial fees for the two performances on April 3;

Memorial Auditorium April 1-3 to the Blue and White Nonpareil Club for its annual junior basketball tournament for $35 a night plus custodial fees if required, and Westgate gymnasium Sept. 24-26 for the 40th annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlias and Floral Society with a fee of $20 a night plus custodial expenses if required.

Harry D. McConville, president, reappointed Samuel L. Brown and Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president, to the finance committee for this year and Woomer and Richard Smith to the building committee.

Probation Requested In Auto Theft Case

LISBON — A probation investigation was ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp for Vincent Leroy Miller Monday afternoon after the Salem defendant pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

He was also indicted for auto larceny by the January Grand Jury but Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis agreed not to prosecute the larceny case in view of the plea to the other charge.

Richard Rose, chief probation officer, will make the investigation and report to the court. Miller was accused of taking the car of Frank E. Lanterman of Salem Nov. 12, 1964.

Education Projects Discussed By ABLE

A discussion of the needs and the advantages of a vocational school and college facilities for the area was held at a meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Beaver Local Education (ABLE) Monday night at the Public School.

The group authorized a resolution backing all programs for improvement of education facilities in Columbiana County.

Discussion was also held on additional facilities for Beaver Local High School and future plans for the district. The next meeting will be held March 1.

Appeal Court Refuses Stay In Ward Case

SALEM — The 7th District Court of Appeals Monday rejected a move to delay realignment of ward boundaries pending an appeal of a Columbiana County Common Pleas Court ruling upholding the ward changes.

The appellate court yesterday refused to grant a stay of execution of the county court ruling that the boundaries are valid and that declarations of candidacy in the May primary election should be based on the new ward limits.

The stay of execution had been sought by Atty. Guy Mauro, counsel for two Democratic candidates, Harold Astry and Albert Lesch.

In a written decision, the appeals judges stated that since the validity of the boundary realignment by Salem Council had been ruled upon by a competent court, Judge Raymond Buzzard's ruling must be allowed to stand pending a hearing on the merits of the case.

The appeals court is not scheduled to convene in Lisbon until Feb. 24, and it was not clear today whether there is time for sufficient legal preparation to take the issue before the court.

Observers said this poses a potential legal puzzle on the status of candidates in the event the appeals court turns down the proposed realignment.

City Delegation To Attend School Group's Session

Four members of the Board of Education and Supt. Paul H. Blair will attend the American Association of School Administrators convention starting Feb. 12 in Atlantic City.

Making the trip will be Harry D. McConville, president; Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, vice president, and Samuel W. Brown and Richard Smith.

The fifth member, John R. Woomer, will be unable to attend because he has been called to active duty in the Naval Reserve for two weeks.

The board at its meeting Monday night adopted a service fund of $1,107.40 to cover expenses of members on board - authorized business.

Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, explained the fund was established on the basis of 20 cents per pupil for each of the 5,537 enrolled as of Jan. 18.

The law authorizes $1,000 or the 20-cent per pupil figure, whichever is larger. In past years, not all of the appropriation was spent, she said.

2 Cumberland Lions Attend Club At Newell

Two members of the New Cumberland Lions Club, Joseph Endry and George Davis, were guests at a dinner meeting of the Newell club Monday night with Ed Fahner, 421 Grant St. Thomas Miller was co-host.

A spaghetti dinner was served by Mrs. Fahner and Mrs. Miller, assisted by Miss Rosemary Miller and Mrs. Sue McGown.

A Ladies Night at Platt's Tea Room in Wellsville Feb. 15 will mark the official visit of Walter Jordan of Chester, the district president.

Rogers Fills Council Post

ROGERS — George Heller, grocery store operator, was named to Council at a meeting Monday night.

Heller, who is married and has a son and daughter, was appointed by Mayor Glenn Rhodes and confirmed by Council. He fills the unexpired term of Rhodes, who became mayor in March when Robert McCrea moved from town.

Councilman Glenn Baker displayed rough sketches and plans for a proposed new village hall on the site of the former railroad depot purchased by the village.

Council will confer with state officials to determine if the basic plans are in accordance with state specifications.

Discussion was held on the November election in which the posts of mayor, clerk, treasurer and four Councilmen will be filed.

Councilmen William Crawford and Dale Williams remain in office until 1967. The incumbents include Mayor Rhodes, Clerk Maine Hall, Treasurer Arnold Greene and Councilmen Wallace Swaney, Baker, Robert Whiacre and Heller.

Bills totaling $279 were paid. Discussion was held on the request of Howard Wise of Walnut St. for installation of a storm sewer.

Bidding Delayed On City Employee Insurance Plans

To allow some members to study specifications on file in Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey's office, Council Monday night delayed final passage of a resolution authorizing the administration to call for bids on continuance of life and hospital insurance plans for city employees.

The measure was given only first reading after Councilman Norman Bucher commented that he has not had a chance to study the specifications on which bids will be taken. Councilman William Davis remarked that he wants "to know what it's all about."

"The specifications are in my office; no one has asked to see them," Vodrey replied.

The resolution will come up for second reading Feb. 15. Vodrey said the present insurance contracts expire March 1.

Indonesian Scientists Work On A-Bomb

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The director of Indonesia's army arsenal said today about 200 scientists are working to make the country's first atomic bomb. He promised a "surprise" at the Armed Forces Day celebration in October.

The officer, Brig. Gen. Hartono, also said Indonesia this year will produce guided missiles "whose damaging abilities are superior to those of other countries." His statements were distributed without elaboration by the official Antara News Agency.

Commissioners O.K. Wellsville Payment

Columbiana County commissioners Monday approved payment of $61.50 to Wellsville for 123 dogs disposed of during January.

In other business, they approved a $2,000 payment to Riffe Plumbing & Heating of Salem for plumbing completed at the new nursing home at the County Home. Robert F. Beatty, architect, approved the work.

Judge Joel H. Sharp and Judge Louis Tobin authorized payment of $350 for repairs to the Kyes farm barn, near Rogers, which was given the county recently. This will be paid out of the $39,000 fund left over from the sale of the Fairmount Children's Home.

The commissioners will meet

Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and hold a public hearing on vacating Richardson's Alley in Unity at 2.

Slick Roads Blamed

7 Suffer Injuries In Road Mishaps

Snow-covered roads resulted in a series of traffic mishaps in the district Monday, with at least seven persons injured, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported today.

Five were hurt in one of two mishaps at the same location on Route 45 just north of Route 344 near Franklin Square.

IN THE first mishap at 11:40 a. m. Virginia Dillon, 25, of Rogers R. D. 1 lost control on the slippery highway, skidded off one side, then veered back left of the center line and collided with an oncoming semi-trailer truck driven by Woodrow Elrod, 35, of Terre Haute, Ind. The woman suffered lacerations of the mouth.

Within half an hour, a car driven by Robert E. Bolin, 22, of Eastlake approached the crash scene and attempted to slow for a vehicle ahead.

Officers said his 1963 sedan went off the road, struck the damaged compact car of the Rogers woman, then went back onto the highway and collided head on with a 1958 sedan operated by Stanley Simcox, 38, of 317 Jackson St., East Liverpool.

SIMCOX suffered bruises and abrasions.

Bolin received cuts of the head and abrasions of the knees and face. Three passengers in his car were also injured — Thomas Bolin, 18, lacerations of the face; Victoria Ann Bolin, 22, cuts of the legs, and Robert Bolin Jr., 3, facial bruises.

There was extensive damage to both autos. Bolin was charged with speed in excess of road conditions.

Carl Milton Lipp, 40, of East Palestine R. D. 1 and 15 students on his Springfield Local school bus were unhurt when the bus struck the rear of an

Chester Elder Elected By Wheeling Presbytery

Robert McFarland of Chester, an elder, was elected to the committee of ministerial relations at a meeting of the Wheeling Presbytery Monday at the Warwood United Presbyterian Church.

Donald Adams of Mounts-ville, an elder, installed the Rev. Robert Sheehan, pastor of the Bethlehem church near Wheeling, as the new moderator. Adams is the retiring moderator.

Nelson Deacon reported on participation in the National Council of United Presbyterian Men held at Cleveland in January.

An invitation was extended to men of the churches in the Presbytery to participate in a two-week mission study trip to Colombia, S. A.

Three candidates for the ministry were taken under the care of the Presbytery. They are Robert Brown, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ousley Brown of Weirton, William Wellings III of Wellsburg and Robert Upton of Wheeling.

The Presbytery went on record opposing a West Virginia state lottery bill being debated in the Legislature and directed the clerk to inform the state representatives of the opposition. The Presbytery also went on record endorsing the contents of a state bill presently in the Senate judiciary committee to abolish capital punishment. The clerk was directed to write the committee chairman, urging the bill be presented on the floor.

James Bonar of Wellsburg, an elder, and the Rev. John Gray of Roneys Point were elected commissioners to the General Assembly.

Beaver Local Board Adds Vacation Day

An extra day of Easter vacation for Beaver Local School District students and teachers was authorized by the Board of Education Monday night.

School sessions which were to have been suspended Friday, April 16, will halt April 15, the board ruled.

A countywide teacher workshop slated Oct. 12 was cancelled, and individual grade level meetings held instead, thus permitting an additional day of school vacation for the Easter holiday Roy Cashdollar, executive head, explained.

The board also approved a men's physical education program for Tuesday nights at the Public School, starting next week, at the request of a number of adults in the area. Cost for the six-week program will be $3.

A schedule of pre-school clinics was approved, with the first series to be held at Elkton March 10, Rogers, March 11, West Point March 12 and Calcutta March 16. The second series will be held in April.

A resolution of the Columbiana County Board of Education, urging continuance of the use of the Bible and prayer in the classrooms, was approved by the board.

It was reported a survey of schools indicated Beaver Local teachers have been utilizing the Bible and prayer.

The board approved Harold Backer of near Rogers as a bus driver, and granted the Calcutta Mothers Club permission to use the high school for serving a banquet May 6 for a bowling league.

A $275 Title III project for high school commercial equipment was authorized.

Cashdollar announced $5,000 worth of textbooks have been obtained, including mathematics books for Grades 1 through 12 and bookkeeping texts. He said another $3,000 order is planned for March.

The board accepted a proposal from the Columbiana County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee to plant trees and thin growth in a wooded area near the high school at Williamsport.

A maintenance agreement was continued with the National Cash Register Co. The next meeting will be held Feb. 15.

we could change this ordinance," Murray said after the legislation was read and Sample and Hancock had moved for final passage.

"I feel it should be left in the auditor's office until we get an opinion from the attorney general," Murray added. "I still think it would be in better hands in the auditor's office. Before I change my mind, I would like to know why it is legal in 60 per cent of the cities in Ohio for the auditor to collect income tax — but not in East Liverpool."

He asked Clerk Lawrence Applegate to write Saxbe for an opinion.

Then the vote was taken on final passage, which failed.

The income tax question has been before Council in one form or another for weeks. Late in 1954, two pieces of legislation were enacted to continue the tax beyond its expiration date Dec. 31. Both named the auditor as the official responsible for the collection.

The lengthy measure before Council last night would have eliminated all reference to the auditor in the collection process, substituting the treasurer.

Post's Books To Be Audited

Harry Aivalotis and Dan McKeever were appointed to audit the books of American Legion Post 4 after I. J. Vorndran, finance officer, submitted his annual report at the meeting Monday night at the Siff Building.

Several new projects for the post were discussed with Charles Bosso, commander, presiding.

Aivalotis displayed a scrapbook of photos and news items pertaining to service of members which he is compiling.

A memorial service was held for the four chaplains who died in the sinking of the Dorchester Feb. 3, 1943, off the coast of Greenland after surrendering their life jackets to four servicemen.

The election of Ray Cunningham, vice commander, as captain of the State Highway Patrol auxiliary was announced.

Refreshments were served by Emmett Blake and committee.

state income tax. His measure is similar to one defeated in the House two years ago.

Romer proposed an income tax of five and one-half per cent of federal income tax payments. He said the tax would yield $400 million a year.

Other new bills include measures by Rep. Jacob A. Shawan, R-Franklin, and Rep. David Albritton, R-Montgomery, to increase the age for minimum drivers.

Shawan's proposal would boost the minimum age from 16 to 18 while Albritton's would place the minimum age at 17 and require applicants under 21 to have a high school education.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Moral: Don't Be A Bum

MONTE CARLO — Jurors from past sessions of this International Television Festival of Monte Carlo assure me that the quality of current entries showed great improvement. Our own seven programs accepted by the festival committee might have had more scope, Hal Humphrey and balance, but they certainly were not to be ashamed of, even so.

Except for "My Childhood," the Hubert Humphrey - James Baldwin biographical documentary by the independent Metromedia Broadcasting Corp., all of ours were NBC programs.

TWO "Profiles in Courage" episodes (Mary McDowell and Thomas Hart Benton stories), Disney's "The Hound That Thought He Was a Raccoon," Bob Hope Theater's "Two Is the Number" with Shelley Winters, "The Fantasticks" by Hallmark and "The Battle of the Bulge" comprised the NBC list.

ABC had submitted two segments of "Saga of Western Man," a "Ben Casey," a "Fugitive" and "Discovery Goes to Moscow," but all films were lost in shipment.

As a network, CBS refused to enter any of its programs. This action, one supposes, is in line with its policy of boycotting our own Emmy awards and is just as logically inexplicable.

A "SLATTERY'S PEOPLE" episode was submitted by the producers, not CBS, but it did not make the final selection list of the festival committee.

A festival spokesman here says that Metromedia virtually had to be bludgeoned into sending its "My Childhood" program. We're always expecting this sort of thing from the Russians, and it looks even more unbecoming on us.

One thing that American TV producers might learn, were they to attend a festival such as this, is the fact they no longer have a monopoly on know-how. The Italians (Rai - Radiotelevisione), for example, came up with a 60-minute documentary on "The Enigma of Robert Oppenheimer" that is as good as any produced in the United States.

THERE IS JUNK produced in other countries, too, of course, and some of it sneaked in at this festival — to the embarrassment of whatever judges were unfortunate enough to be representing those countries.

And here, it would seem, is one of the salutary or beneficial effects these festivals can have. When a country is shown up by the superior programs of others competing for the awards somebody is going back home and give somebody the old what-for.

Every one of the 15 jurors attending this festival has been conscientious, sympathetic to his colleagues and cooperative.

ONE OF THE French jurors, Marcel Achard, was grouching a bit at having to sit through a two-hour French TV version of Balzac's "La Cousine Bette."

"I just saw it not too long ago, and I don't think the girl in it can act, but now I must sit through it again," he said.

"But why?" I asked. "Because," replied Achard, "I see you and the others doing it for your shows, which I know you've seen before, too. So now you have spoiled it for me. I must do the same, or be a bum."

TONIGHT

7:30, WJAC, WTRF, WIIC, Mr. Novak: "Faculty Follies." Mr. Novak runs into unforeseen difficulties when he agrees to direct a variety show planned by his fellow teachers to raise money for exchange students.

8:30, KDKA, WSTV, Red Skelton: Red, joined by the French star Marcel Marceau, will present his entire program performance in pantomime.

8:30, WTAE, WEWS, WJAC, McHale's Navy: "McHale's Floating Laundromat." Capt. Binghamton installs his aide as McHale's executive officer and is stuck with Ensign Parker.

8:30, WTRF, WIIC, Hullabaloo: Bobby Rydell is host. Guests include Bill Dana, the Everly Brothers and Cliff Bennett and the Revel Rousers. (color)

9:30, KDKA, WSTV, Petticoat Junction: Hoping to beat the telephone company's $800 installation charge, Uncle Joe goes into the bootleg telephone business.

10, WJAC, WTRF, WIIC, Telephone Hour: "Salute to American Music," starring Jane Powell, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, Louis Armstrong, Jack Haskell and Max Morath and the Original Rag Quartet. (color)

11:25, WSTV, "The Last Hurrah," starring Spencer Tracy, Jeffrey Hunter and Basil Rathbone. Based on Edwin O'Connor's novel, an aging mayor of a New England town running for another term of office is defeated in a hard-fought campaign involving shady transactions by both political groups.

Cooking Worried Miss Truman Not Opening Of Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Margaret Truman admitted, after the opening show of her first daily television series, that she was a little worried. Not about the show, but about getting home in time to cook dinner for her husband and three sons.

The show, a local special-events show broadcast live by WCAU-TV, in which Miss Truman is cohost with Bill Hart, last half an hour and demands little rehearsal time. It does require three hours commuting every day for Miss Truman—in private life Mrs. Clifton Daniel—between her Manhattan home and the station's Philadelphia studios.

"We have a maid," she said, dashing for the dressing room after Monday's show, "but not a cook. It's going to be tough getting home in time some days."

The current series is scheduled to last, as far as Miss Truman is concerned, only until the show's regular hostess, Nancy Beebe, currently on vacation, rejoins Hart before the cameras.

Killed In Collision

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A collision involving two cars and a truck killed Robert M. Smith, 76, of rural Lockwood, driver of one of the cars. The State Highway Patrol said Smith's car skidded across the center line Monday and was hit by the truck and the other car. The accident occurred on Ohio 45 northwest of here.

American Flier In Germany Hit With Meningitis

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — An American airman at Frankfurt's giant Rhein-Main Air Force Base has contracted infectious meningitis, U.S. Air Force officials announced today.

Immediate measures were taken to prevent spread of the disease and treat persons who had been in contact with the airman, identified as Airman I.C. Norman Spence.

The Air Force said Spence had just returned from a flight to bases at Chateauroux, France; Sigonella, Italy; and Wheelus, Libya.

The Armed Forces Radio Network broadcast an appeal for all persons who visited the Rhein-Main noncommissioned officers' club during the weekend to report to their medical officers. About 1,500 responded and were given treatment, the Air Force said.

Meningitis is an inflammation of the membranes enclosing the brain and spinal cord and often is fatal if not treated promptly.

Pastor Injured Fatally

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Rev. Gailen Miller, 31, a staff member of the Greater Cleveland Council of Churches, was injured fatally Monday in a two-car collision on the east side. The Rev. Mr. Miller had served since December as interim pastor of Fidelity Baptist Church in the Inner - City Protestant Parish.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our mother is 81 years old. There are five children in the family. Four of us are married and have families of our own. Our middle sister never married. She has an excellent position and makes a beautiful salary. Sister has always been close to mother and lived in mother's house.

Five years ago mother broke her hip and couldn't take the stairs, so she sold her home. Sister and mother moved into an apartment. Two years ago sister began to criticize us bitterly because we have not contributed to mother's support. She says she cannot work forever and now she must begin to put something away for the future. (She is only 53).

Ann, all of us have children to think about. Sister has only herself. Is it our fault that she chose the single life? None of us is rich and college these days costs a fortune. We all have children to put through.

We can't change our standard of living just because sister suddenly has decided to abandon her responsibility. Please say we are right. We need your help. — UP AGAINST IT.

Dear Up: Where did you get the idea that your mother is your sister's responsibility? Who raised the rest of you? Your sister has carried the load without complaining all these years. So that means she should die in harness?

You four ingrates should now share ALL the expenses for your mother's keep and on in. She's done her part — and then some.

Dancing Date

Dear Ann: This may sound like a dumb question, but I need an answer.

When a fellow dances with a very lovely and refined young lady for the first time, how close should he hold her? I like a certain girl a lot but I don't want her to think I'm bold. On the other hand, it's no fun dancing three feet apart, either.

Can you give me some help? — WISHING TO KNOW.

Dear Wishing: Hold her close enough so you'll know she's a girl but not so close that you have trouble remembering she's a lady.

In The Cards

Dear Ann: I agree with "Straight Arrow" who said the standard American greeting, "How are you?" is a superficial collection of words which should be eliminated from the language.

Our pastor, who feels as I do about this, decided to do something about it. He had cards printed. When someone encounters him in passing and asks, "How are you?" he hands them the following printed message:

"You ask me how I am, so I will tell you. My appendix is in and my tonsils are out. My epiglottis is working nicely and my sinuses are clear. My spleen is okay, my feet are free of bunions and my heart is beating with regular rhythm. My soul is saved by Jesus Christ and I am His property. If you wish further information, please let me know. And will you also let me know what you plan to do with this information?"

Clever, eh? — A FRIEND.

Dear Friend: Not very. As a matter of fact, I think it's pretty revolting.

I suggest your pastor save his little cards until someone asks him specifically about his appendix, his tonsils, his sinuses and his bunions. Until then, "Fine, thank you" should do nicely.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Improve Your Nutritional Status

With 10 to 16 pounds off, depending on your size category, you can wear a smaller dress size. The most beautiful way to reduce is to improve your nutritional status and shore up sagging tissue. To tone up, get out and walk daily.

There is no mystery. One pound of body fat has a fuel value of 3,500 calories. Calories will always be the key to weight control for the measurement of energy. When calories are cut below requirements, nature is forced to draw on reserve fuel stored in excess pounds. The rate of weight loss is set by your calorie deficit. Exercise steps up the burning.

HOWEVER, calorie counting is not enough. This measure does not express qualitative values. Just as the yardstick as a measure gives no clue to whether the material is cheese cloth or pure silk, calories do not evaluate food from the nutrient standpoint.

Many overweights are poorly nourished. To be properly nourished, meals must be built around the protective foods. The nutrients — protein, minerals and vitamins — are essential to the upkeep and renewal of body tissue.

Nature can use any kind of food for fuel, but repair and replacement material comes chiefly from the protective foods. When calories are cut, the quality each day becomes of utmost importance. The menus in this series are built on the protective foods which furnish their full share of body-replenishing nutrients.

Since the daily slimming pattern is high in protein and low in carbohydrate and fat, you are likely to lose rapidly at the beginning. If you are a heavy-weight, you may lose 4 to 5 pounds the first week, due to the release of water from the tissues. However, if you store water at the start of a diet, you may not have lost a single pound. Hold on. . . you'll lose. To prevent water retention, use a minimum of salt.

FOLLOW these slimming tips: Build each meal around a high value protein. Apportion the day's total of calories in small, easily handled loads to enable nature to build a lean, lithe body. Limit starchy foods to one thin slice of bread or one half potato at a meal. Skip the sweets. They are "empty" calories.

Be sure to have a purposeful pick-up in the late afternoon, preferably a portein food. This will cut ahead of hunger and prevent that all-gone feeling.

TOMORROW: Get a slim image.

SLIMMING PATTERN
Breakfast: Citrus fruit juice, (1/2 cup) hot creamy oatmeal, (3/4 cup), or other cereal, sugar, (1 rounded tsp.), whole milk, (1/2 cup), Or, skim milk, (1 cup) hot coffee, black. Total calories, 255.

Luncheon: Broiled open face sandwich, lean meat, 2 thin slices, (2 oz.), bread, (1 slice), butter, or margarine, (1/2 pat), tossed green salad with apple slices, (Dieter's Dressing), buttermilk or skim milk. Total calories, 295.

Dinner: Broiled chopped steak pattie (4 oz. ck. wt. 1/4 lb.), toasted hamburger bun, (1/2), pickle relish, sliced sweet onion, mustard, mixed vegetables, (1/2 cup), celery stuffed with cottage cheese—paprika (1/4 cup cheese), tangerine, large. Total calories, 465.

Total calories for day will be 1,095.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Crane —

Dear Heloise: I just couldn't keep this hint to myself. Recently, someone gave me a jar of little pads for removing nail polish and I thought, "This is the handiest thing ever for someone always in a hurry!" Only one thing bothered me. Being a little Scotch, I dreaded using them because I knew I would never spend the money for another jar. So I went to my dime store, bought a box of disposable cotton puffs and a bottle of my favorite inexpensive nail polish remover.

I packed the little jar tightly with the puffs, poured in the remover, and now have a lovely jar of pads all soaked and at my fingertips . . . and inexpensive enough so that I can enjoy using them.

MRS. A.

Now that takes the cake! Any woman could take an old cold cream jar and use this same method with either the molded cotton puffs, or just by tearing off little balls of cotton herself and putting them in the jar. Thanks, Mrs. A.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a pipe cleaner to remove lint from the facing under buttons and button holes in thin shirts and blouses. Works like a charm because of the roughness of the pipe cleaner.

MRS. KENNEDY.

DEAR HELOISE: My nursery-school child brings home art work every day. I tape each new painting on the side or door of the refrigerator. This brightens my kitchen and makes my daughter so proud.

I also save the prettiest ones and used them to wrap gifts for the doting grandparents — this is one time when the wrapping gets as much attention as the presents!

JUNE ALMY.

DEAR HELOISE: If your glasses fit loosely and they don't stay put . . . just take a piece of adhesive tape, cut it in two pieces, one-eighth of an inch each and place in the part of the glasses where the hinges are.

If you put it between where the hinges bend when the glasses are closed, one on each side of your glasses, you will make them just tight enough. If you need more tightness to hold them up on your nose, add another little dab of tape.

IRA MANSELL.

Well, glory be! It works like a charm.

For all those who have their glasses slipping down on their nose, do try it. You don't have anything to lose, but a little dab of tape. It can always be removed.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When covering buttons, I take a needle and thread and baste around the edge of the cut-out circle of material.

Then, I pull the thread slightly and put the material over the top of the button, gather it snugly and use a tack knot. It's much easier to clamp on the back of the metal button and the material is smooth.

MRS. L. D. PRICE.

DEAR HELOISE: After slicing the remains from a turkey carcass, I wrap the sliced meat in the skin of the turkey and then in plastic wrap.

It stays moist for days for those turkey sandwiches.

HESTER L.

You are exactly right, Hester. As many turkeys as I cook for my freezer, I hadn't thought about utilizing the skin to keep it fresh. But it does.

One of our turkeys had been frozen 60 days (wrapped in the skin) and when I removed it and thawed it out, it was as moist as when I put it in. Thanks a million.

HELOISE.

Child Needs Help To Correct Speech

To this day I often feel self-conscious as I talk in the presence of certain types of persons who seem to speak very comfortably and effectively. I can recall times in my earlier years, especially in my early teens, when I suffered great fear while trying to express myself.

Especially in the presence of certain persons I think who were aware of my poor expression.

I can also remember when I was uncomfortable as I spoke in class at school and in various other groups. However, I am glad to report that I feel sure I have improved, thanks to considerable effort over the years.

In some earlier articles of this column I discussed the problem of discomfort many children have when they speak in the grades and high school, or in the home and elsewhere. In some of these articles I reported a few of the hundreds of remarks about this matter from children in the grades, junior and senior high school, and college students.

RECENTLY I received the following letter. It was signed, but gave no street address, so I could not answer it personally.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have trouble speaking before my class. I am in the sixth grade. I just can't talk to my teacher and parents about this. They think I am stubborn and dumb. My sister recites poems and gets parts in plays but I don't or could not talk if I did. I like to read and learn things. My parents said, 'She is not smart like her sister but we love her too.' I have tried to do something about this but I am getting worse all the time."

Just imagine yourself in this child's place. She sees how well her sister does in reciting poems at school and in doing parts in plays. She observes all the applause this sister gets and then imagines how poorly she expresses herself, feeling so inferior. Then on top of all this suffering, she heard her parents say of her, "She is not smart like her sister." And then the touching remark, "I have tried to do something about it but I am getting worse all the time."

IF THIS girl could "have understanding teachers and parents, schoolmates and pals and an older sister who appreciated her plight, she might gradually regain hope and self-regard and come to speak at school or elsewhere comfortably and attractively. But she says, "I can't talk to my teachers and parents about this."

Perhaps neither ever supposed this girl felt she couldn't. Chances are that neither her teacher nor parents ever for a moment imagined themselves in the girl's place. How then could they know of her needless suffering? How could they help her? How is the child going to be able to help herself? Your heart and mine go out to Cathy. How I wish I might talk to her, her teachers and parents.

To any child, youth or adult who happen to be reading this let me suggest:

When you wish to make a remark to another person alone or in any formal or informal group, decide first exactly what you are going to say. Then try to make yourself say just that and nothing more. For some while don't try to say much. The shorter what you wish to say is, the more surely you will be able to say it.

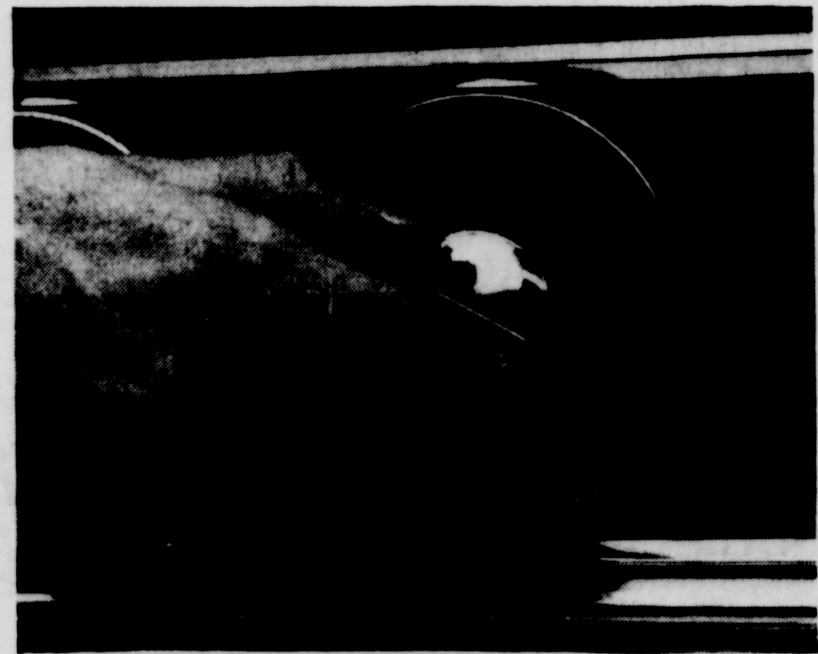

WHEN you memorize something to say, as at an assembly program, choose something very short. You can master longer selections later. Be slow and easy. Never hurry. Take a good comfortable breath before beginning.

When among others who seem to speak glibly don't think you have to say much. Be a good listener. Time may come when what you want to say will just say itself.

To parents and teachers of the child who "uhs" and "ahs" and "ands" and seems to be speaking uncomfortably, be a poised, appreciative listener. The way you breathe, look, and act then can help this child more than you have ever supposed.

Adding a little Worcestershire sauce to Blue Cheese dressing seems to help point up the good flavor.

Posts Unanimous Win Over Chuvalo

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jubilant Floyd Patterson, aiming for a record third heavyweight crown, had a promise of a title fight from king Cassius Clay today following his rousing victory over George Chuvalo in 12 bruising rounds.

"You've got the title fight, Floyd," Clay shouted, "you've earned it."

But first the 30-year-old Patterson, seemingly relegated to boxing's scrapheap after his two first-round knockout defeats to Sonny Liston, will have to wait out the Liston - Clay return in Boston in May or June. He may take a return fight with Chuvalo while he's marking time.

Clay, who had disdainfully called the former two-time heavyweight champion a "rabbit," changed his tune after watching Patterson hammer out a unanimous decision over the gallant, blood-smeared Canadian champion before a standing room only crowd of 19,100 Monday night in Madison Square Garden.

Working as a between-the-rounds commentators for the closed-circuit telecast, Clay, at one point, said "Floyd would have beat Liston fighting like this."

Patterson seemed as happy to prove "my chin isn't made of china" as he was over the verdict in the savage slugfest that drew constant roars from the huge throng. Patterson earned the decision by landing more punches — mostly to the head — than his body — bombing foe. There were no knockdowns.

"I proved I could take a punch and come back fighting although he hurt me at times," Patterson repeated over and over to the fresh waves of newsmen entering his dressing room.

The virtually unmarked victor, first man ever to win and lose the heavyweight crown twice, said he would like to fight Clay right off but that if he had to wait he would like to fight Chuvalo again first.

"He deserves another chance," said Patterson. "I'd like it more than anything else," said the crestfallen Canadian. "The referee (Zach Clayton) just wouldn't let me fight my fight. Every time I started to get going, the referee would break us up."

Although Patterson said Clay told him that he (Clay) would like to fight him next, Clay's manager, Angelo Dundee, said Liston comes first.

"Clay will fight Patterson but first he has to fulfill his contract to give Liston a chance to regain the title," said Dundee.

That return fight caused the World Boxing Association to de-throne Clay. The WBA has approved as a title fight, a clash between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen at Chicago March 5.

Patterson could get a shot at the winner but he said he prefers Clay.

"If I can beat Clay and then Liston, I'll call it a career," he said.

Patterson couldn't floor the rugged, 27-year-old Chuvalo but he bombed his head with everything he had — and often. He cut him over the left eye and chopped other nicks and bruises on Chuvalo's face with his flashing volleys.

In the process, Floyd absorbed a hundred or more thumping wallops to the ribs and belly. It seemed that the 206-pound Chuvalo had to topple his smaller, 197-pound foe before the 12th, but grimly, determined Patterson refused to fall.

Not only that, at the finish he was belting the bleeding Chuvalo all over the ring.

Clayton scored the fight 65-1 in rounds. Judge Tony Castellano had it 7-5 and Judge Joe Armstrong, 8-4, all for Patterson. The Associated Press had Patterson in front, 9-2-1. A ring-side poll gave Patterson the edge, 18 to 2, with one writer calling it a draw. Most gave Patterson eight rounds or more.

Patterson's record is 42-4, Chuvalo's 29-9-2.

"It wasn't a title fight, but it was one of my most satisfying victories," said Patterson, a fighting millionaire. "I was out to win and please. If I didn't I would have quit."

Braves Deal Catcher For Billy O'Dell

A3—sszyrBaseball Roundup
The Milwaukee Braves moved again — this time to strengthen their bullpen.

Completing their first trade since the end of the 1964 baseball season, the Braves went back to dealing with San Francisco Monday and shipped catcher Ed Bailey back to the Giants in exchange for left-handed pitcher Billy O'Dell.

Bailey was one of the headliners in a multi-player Giants-Braves swap after the 1963 season, moving to Milwaukee along with outfielder Felipe Alou for pitchers Bob Hendley, Bob Shaw and catcher Del Crandall.

O'Dell is a 33-year-old veteran of 11 major league seasons. He posted an 8-7 record with a 5.40 earned run average last year while appearing in 36 games. In 1962, O'Dell was one of the mainstays of the San Francisco staff, compiling a 19-14 record as the Giants won the National League pennant.

"I'm very happy to get O'Dell," said Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan. "His experience and ability should help us a lot."

While the trade was being engineered, Joe Adcock signed his contract with the Los Angeles Angels for his 16th season in the major leagues. The 37-year-old first baseman hit .268 last year with 21 homers.

Oak Glen Mat Team Beaten At Hopewell

Oak Glen's wrestling team absorbed its fifth loss of the season a 36-17 verdict Monday night at Hopewell.

The Golden Bears, winners of four matches this season, won five bouts and tied another but all of their points came by decisions.

Cliff Everly decided his opponent 7-3 in the 95-pound match while Rick Price (103) won 6-0, Fred Bowers (127) won 8-7 winner, Bill Miller (138) blanked his foe, 5-0 and Tom Bowen won the 165-pound match 8-1.

Jerry Baxter battled his 133-pound opponent to a 0-0 draw. Oak Glen wrestles Thursday at Beaver Local.

Eddie Melvin Resigns Cage Post At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eddie Melvin, head basketball coach at the University of Toledo since 1954, resigned unexpectedly Monday, effective at the end of the current season next month.

The 45-year-old Melvin cited the "pressures he has undergone as head coach" as the reason for his resignation following a conference with university officials.

Melvin, who starred in basketball at Duquesne University in the late 1930s, said he was undecided about his future plans.

"This was not a spur-of-the-moment thing," he said. "I've been mulling it over for some time. It's been tough on my family."

He said he was not as upset about the anonymous telephone calls at his home late at night but "they were bothering my family."

Hutchinson Is Selected Most Courageous Athlete

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fred Hutchinson, who continued to manage the Cincinnati Reds although dying of cancer, was named Monday night Most Courageous Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

The award, made posthumously came at the association's annual banquet.

Other awards were the Outstanding Athlete of the Year award to Los Angeles Angels' pitcher Dean Chance and Football Lineman of the Year award to Penn State's All-America Glen Ressler.

Hutchinson, affectionately known as The Big Bear and Old Stoneface, died last Nov. 12 in Bradenton, Fla., after 25 years as pitcher, coach and manager.

Hutchinson learned in December of 1963 he was suffering from chest cancer. Typical of his straightforward manner he did not try to hide it, and bluntly announced his affliction.

He went to spring training and spent most of the long, hot summer in the dugout with the team before handing over the reins to Dick Sisler, in August.

Sisler, present manager of the Reds, accepted the award Monday night on behalf of Hutchinson's widow, Patricia.

Michigan Takes UCLA's Top Spot

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Michigan's Wolverines forged into first place ahead of UCLA in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll today while Davidson, Duke, Indiana and Vanderbilt gained ground.

The Wolverines climbed to No. 1 after beating Michigan State 103-98 in overtime and Purdue 98-81 for a 13-2 record. UCLA dropped its second game of the season, 87-82 to Iowa.

Michigan collected 21 first-place votes and 373 points in the balloting by a special panel of 40 regional experts. UCLA polled nine votes for the top position and 314 points, the latter on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

UCLA, which rebounded from its Iowa setback to beat Chicago Loyola, has a 14-2 mark. The voting was based on games through Saturday, Jan. 30.

St. Joseph's, Pa., 17-1, held third place although it collected three first-place votes to seven for unbeaten Providence which remained in fourth spot.

Duke and Indiana moved up although neither played last week. The Blue Devils climbed from 10th to sixth and the Hoosiers from ninth to seventh. Duke has a 10-2 record and Indiana is at 12-2.

Vanderbilt, unranked a week ago, soared to ninth place. The Commodores lead the Southeastern Conference with 6-0 and are 14-2 over-all.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points:

1. Michigan (21) 373
2. UCLA (9) 314

McKinley No. 1, But Top 10 Has Several Changes

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four of the top 10 teams in Class AA, and three in Class A, went down to defeat last week — but Canton McKinley and Lakeside escaped and continued to lead The Associated Press high school basketball poll.

Cleveland St. Ignatius, Portsmouth, Mansfield Senior and Mansfield St. Peter twice were the Class AA victims — and both Mansfield teams dropped from the elite list, with a pair of unbeaten — Youngstown Boardman and Piqua — moving into the vacancies.

New Lebanon Dixie, Chillicothe Flaget and Clay of Scioto county were dumped in Class A, but all remained in the jumbled Top 10.

Urbana's Hilltoppers, rated third last week, bumped Lima Shawnee out of the runner-up spot in Class AA after the Allen County team had held the position all season, but Canton McKinley's Bulldogs piled up the biggest poll point total of the year as 58 sports editors cast ballots.

Six of the top bracket teams in Class AA are unbeaten, but only three are unblemished in Class A. Urbana went around Lima Shawnee although the Hilltoppers had only five first-place votes to Lima's 10. The Bulldogs garnered 16.

Celina ICHS, beaten twice, gained on Lakeside in the smaller school race. A week ago Celina was 33 points back of the leaders on the 10-9-8-etc. basis, but the margin was only 18 today.

This and that: London's 13-1 lone loss was to second-ranked Urbana 10 games ago. Cleveland St. Ignatius' 72-64 loss to Cleveland John Marshall was its first varsity setback of the school year — the Wildcat gridgers having won 10 straight and the cagers 13 before the blow fell.

Mid-year graduations are shaking up a lot of teams because of talent losses. For the first time since 1958, Mansfield St. Peter lost two in a row — 69-65 to Canton Central and 68-67 to Columbus Hartley. Dan Obrovac, Canton Central's 6-10 senior, known as the "jolly green giant" because of his size and the school colors, had 25 rebounds and 20 points in the win over St. Peter. Mansfield Senior, in defeating Elyria 63-54, missed the first seven shots in the first quarter and the first 10 in the second but rallied to take it all. But Saturday the Tygers fell before Marion Harding, to join St. Peter among the also-rans.

Umpires Will Have To Be Alert With Probing Isolated Camera

NEW YORK (AP) — Depending on the point of view, baseball umpires may have to be just a bit more cautious when they apply the whisk broom to home plate this season.

Television's latest innovation, the probing isolated camera which focuses on one particular area, will be zeroing in on all facets of the game this season, according to the latest procedures adopted Monday at a joint session of the two major leagues.

Commissioner Ford Frick, emphasizing that "it was definitely agreed that there would be no pressure by the network," nevertheless stated that television cameras would have the widest latitude.

"There will be no stopping of play for commercials," said Frick, "and we're not going to be moving the umpires around to suit the cameras, and things like that."

But, Frick pointed out, there will be no objection to the isolated camera pinpointing a play involving a disputed call by an umpire and then offering television viewers a replay.

The isolated camera has proved popular in televising pro football games. The camera is operated so that it focuses, close up, on one particular phase of the action, and can be replayed back immediately.

The role of television was discussed by the major league club owners with Tom Moore, president of the American Broadcasting Co. ABC will be televising a Saturday Game of the Week this season in a package deal that will bring the 18 participating clubs $300,000 each.

In separate actions, the American League appointed a committee to clarify the controversial ruling which covers conflict of interests and the National League adopted a $2.5-million disaster plan.

The acquisition of the New York Yankees by the Columbia Broadcasting System last November prompted the American League investigation.

It was learned that several American League owners — Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox and Joseph Iglehart of the Baltimore Orioles — have substantial interests in CBS. Iglehart recently resigned as a CBS board member.

The National League disaster plan will cover any team which loses seven or more players by accidental death or disability. Under the plan, each of the nine other clubs will present a list of 12 players — and the club which has suffered the disaster may select enough men to replace those lost.

Church Loop Race Remains In 4-Way Tie

Deadlocks for the first place remained in both divisions of the YMCA-Church League after Saturday's action.

Chester Christian and St. John's posted their fourth straight tie to remain tied for the Inter-Collegiate lead while LaCroft Nazarene and Grace U. P. showed the same records in the Collegiate Division.

Chester Christian picked up a 29-3 romp over Second U. P. with Charles Gillespie scoring 13 points for the winners. Jim Smith scored three for Second U. P.

St. John's, led by Dan Cunningham's 14 markers defeated Chester First Methodist, 22-4. Jim Treleven had all four points for the losers.

Calvary Methodist eked out a 17-15 win over Orchard Grove. John Grafton and Joe March had five each for the winners while George Manning scored five for Orchard Grove.

St. Stephen's stamped out a 13-3 win over Boyce Methodist with Dave Mason scoring nine of the winners' points. Ralph Seever's tallied his team's three markers.

After Losing To Marquette

St. John's Bounces Back With Victory Over Loyola

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. John's University Redmen took a giant stride along the comeback trail in college basketball Monday night in much the same fashion Floyd Patterson did in boxing by outpointing George Chuvalo.

The Redmen from New York beat Chicago Loyola 82-67 and the result was as much a surprise as the 78-50 bombing St. John's absorbed from Marquette in Milwaukee Saturday, a defeat that dropped the Redmen out of The Associated Press Top Ten.

After Saturday's walloping, the Redmen weren't given much chance against Loyola, upset winner over Wichita Friday, especially on the Ramblers' home court where they hadn't lost in four years.

But Coach Joe Lapchick's boys turned the trick and they did it the hard way. They erased a 10-point Loyola lead in the second half on two key baskets by Jerry Houston. The first put the Redmen ahead at 76-75 and the second put St. John's ahead for good at 82-80. Houston finished with 22 points compared to 25 for his teammate, Bob McIntyre. Loyola's Billy Smith was high for the game with 28.

The sixth-ranked Duke Blue Devils crushed Maryland 82-62 at Durham to tie N.C. State for the lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the touring 10th-ranked San Francisco Dons took a 59-53 licking from the Tulsa Hurricanes.

Tennessee chalked up its seventh straight and kept on the heels of Vanderbilt in the Southeastern Conference by whipping Florida 75-43 at Knoxville. Kentucky kept alive its slim SEC hopes with a 96-64 triumph over Georgia.

Drake wiped out a 13-point deficit in the second half and downed Creighton 76-67 in overtime at Des Moines while Wisconsin handed Notre Dame its first home defeat 98-90.

Arizona State upset Bradley 92-81 at Tempe while Wake Forest downed Clemson 82-75. West Virginia humbled George Washington 111-90. Oklahoma whipped Missouri 87-74. Oklahoma City edged New Orleans Loyola 91-88. Southern California drubbed Hawaii 85-81 and Seattle defeated Montana State 101-83 in other games.

Sophomore Bob Verga, with 23 points, paced Duke over Maryland. Bob Fedorko's nine points in the last five minutes sparked Tulsa over San Francisco. Ron Widby's 22 points, along with A. W. Davis' 17, helped Tennessee beat Florida, a defeat that dimmed the Gators' SEC Hopes.

BOWLING

and Larry Adkins scored seven each for the leaders while Floyd Cranston totaled five for First Methodist.

Grace U. P. paced by Mark Scott's 10 points and Rick Eckles' eight points copped win No. 4 with a 22-6 victory over Trinity U. P.

First Christian rolled to an 18-8 victory over Oakland Free Methodist with Grant Franklin leading the winners with six points.

Tom Johnson and Mike Lane had four each for the Oakland five.

First U. P., with Bob Flint pouring in 14 points was a 23-9 winner over Chester Nazarene which was paced by Dave Dugan's six points.

Wellsville Youth Given Penalties

A Wellsville area youth was given a suspended one-year sentence Monday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old Wellsville girl, and his 17-year-old companion also cited will be allowed to enter the armed forces this week.

Donald Regis Cosley, 18, of R. D. 1 also was given a two-month suspension of his driver's license and was ordered not to associate with any girl under 18. He and his companion picked up two Wellsville girls, one 12 and the other 13, drove to Yellow Creek and took undue liberties with them, according to the complaint.

Both girls were placed on probation to their parents and they are not allowed out after school unless accompanied by one of their parents. The judge also lectured the parents for allowing their daughters out by themselves after dark.

7 Gridders, Coach Gain Hall Of Fame

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Seven players and a coach are the newest members of the National Football Hall of Fame.

The new Hall of Famers, whose selection was announced Monday by Chet LaRoche, president of the National Football Foundation, are Jack Cannon, Notre Dame guard 1927-29; Merle Gulick, Toledo and Hobart quarterback, 1925-29; Thomas J. Hamilton, Navy back, 1923-25; Dr. George (Tank) McLaren, Pittsburgh fullback, 1915-17.

Also, Eric (The Red) Tipton, Duke back, 1936-1938; James (Froggy) Williams, Rice end, 1949-51; Dr. Jerome (Brud) Holland, Cornell end, 1936-38; and Carl Snavely, coach at North Carolina, Bucknell and Cornell 1926-52.

Holland was a two-time All-America selection playing under Snavely at Cornell in 1937 and 1938. He is now president of Hampton Institute in Virginia.

Snavely, who started his 26-year coaching career at Bucknell before moving on to North Carolina in 1934 and to Cornell in 1937, retired in 1952, eight years after returning to coach North Carolina. Now in business in St. Louis, he had a 147-77-16 record as a coach and was one of the first to use movies in developing his teams.

West Beaver Board Shown School Plans

B. J. McCandless and Joseph McCandless, Ellwood City architects, showed the Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday night preliminary drawings of proposed additions to the Fairview School and the high school at Industry.

The State Board of Education has approved both projects, which will include five classrooms, a music room and an auditorium at the high school and seven classrooms, a kindergarten room, library, administrative suite and an enlargement of the kitchen facilities, at the Fairview School.

Frank E. Meredith, supervising principal, has set a tentative target date for the completion of the projects for September 1966.

Numerous requests were granted by the board.

The area Girl Scouts will use the high school cafeteria for the annual Juliet Low tea March 13; John Hineman, guidance counselor, will attend the annual conference of Pennsylvania School Counselors Association meeting in Hershey April 1-3.

Leo Curto, music supervisor, will accompany four students to the Midwest District Choir Festival Feb. 25-27, at Knoch High School. Students participating will be Bruce Singleton, Leeanne Herter, Patti Acon and Susan McCombs.

The Junior and Senior Photography Club will attend a photography show March 26 at Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh; the home economics classes will make a field trip to the Economy Super-market on Feb. 10 and 10 physical education students will participate in the annual Beaver County Play Day at Ambridge High School April 13.

A sabbatical leave for the 1965-66 term was granted Charles W. Smith, a sixth grade teacher, to continue further graduate study.

Charles Henderson, president, presided. The next meeting will be held March 1.

Reservist Of Millport Awaits Retirement

M. Sgt. Vernon W. Brown of Millport, Kensington R.D. 1, will retire from the Army Reserves during a special ceremony tonight at the Training Center for the Headquarters Battery, 3rd Battalion, 92nd Artillery, on Middlebranch Rd.

He has served 20 years and 8 months. He will be presented a trophy from the non-commissioned officers of the battalion by Lt. Col. John A. Paul. He served in the Pacific area during World War II and enlisted in the reserves when discharged.

He is employed as head carpenter with the McLain Works of the H. K. Porter Co. at Wellsville, and has been with the firm 21 years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Brown. He and his wife, the former Dorothy McBride, reside in Millport and have three sons and a daughter.

Retired U.S. Appeals Judge Dies In Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Judge C. B. McClintock, whose judicial career went from village solicitor to appellate judge, died Monday at the McKinley Nursing home.

McClintock, 80, was a judge of the 5th District Court of Appeals for 16 years, serving as presiding judge several years. He retired from the bench in 1963 and had been in poor health for the past two years.

13 Killed, 8 Missing In French Mine Blast

LENS, France (AP) — Thirteen coal miners were killed today and eight others are missing in a black-damp blast in a mine near here, mine officials said.

Rescue workers quickly recovered the bodies of six miners. Then another seven bodies were found in debris.

The search was pressed for eight hours.

The age and origin of a vase or bowl can be shown by burning just a few milligrams of its glass dust in a spectrograph.

Bingo Ban Remedied

Firemen's 'Loss' Will Be Made Up

Because Sheriff Joseph Rodak's clampdown on illegal activities has hit the bingo and lotteries conducted by volunteer fire departments to raise money for equipment, the Hancock County Court Monday voted to increase the annual allotments to each department by $200.

The commissioners agreed to boost the allotments to each department from $300 to $500 and that of the Hancock County Fire-Fighters Association from $500 to $750.

TWELVE representatives from various fire departments complained to the court yesterday that Rodak's crackdown has affected their fund-raising.

Commissioners also received a complaint from the 4-H Leaders Association, protesting the 100 per cent increase in the weekly camping fee for groups at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The delegation said the weekly fee was boosted from $100 to $200.

The commissioners agreed to investigate to see if the fee can be lowered. If not, they agreed to donate $200 from county funds to the 4-H group to make up the increase for the two-week camp.

COMMISSIONER Jack Evans said the county annually appropriates $13,000 to $14,000 for the state park, but gets no return.

Commissioners also award a contract for cleaning and painting the Courthouse and jail, received bids on a new cruiser for Sheriff Rodak and refused the bids for renovation of the sheriff's living quarters in the jail.

Complying with an order of Circuit Court, they awarded a contract to Virden Brothers Contractors of Pughtown to construct a women's restroom near the courtroom and employed Charles Bradley of New Cumberland to wash down the walls of the courtroom and the ceiling over the courtroom balcony.

THE ORDER stemmed from a written protest from a petit jury complaining of dirty conditions in the juryroom and no restroom facilities for women jurors on the third floor. The women jurors have had to use a basement restroom.

The Virden bid of $689 was the lowest of two received. Harold G. Andrews of Weirton asked $1,332.

Bradley's price for washing down the walls and ceiling was $95.

Frank Babula of Weirton was hired to paint the corridors and four restrooms on the main floor and basement for $629.

Commissioners also agreed to purchase five gallons of paint for painting the radio room and other jail facilities outside the cellblock. Trustees will do the painting at no cost to the county.

Central Service of Newell submitted the apparent low among six bidders on a cruiser for the sheriff's use.

HOWEVER, commissioners delayed action until a check can be made with Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr to determine if the court can legally employ two persons familiar with the auto business but not dealers to evaluate the offers and recommend which bid should be accepted.

Remove dangerous snow and ice
with STERLING HALITE

25 LB. BAG 97¢ — 100 LB. BAG 1.94

Keep driveway and sidewalk safe and clear the easy way. Sterling Halite actually melts 46 times its own weight of snow or ice at 30 F. Spread while snow is falling. Halite melts light fall completely. Prevents hard fall from becoming a hard packed ice menace.
